U. S. To Expand Berlin 'Air Lift'

Clay Discloses Fleet Capacity To Be Doubled

C-54s Will Be Used; Move Seen Boosting Settlement Chances

WASHINGTON, July 23 (AP)—The United States soon will double the capacity of the airplane fleet carrying supplies to beleaguered Berlin, Gen. Lucius D. Clay announced today.

He expects this to increase the chances for a peaceful settlement of the crisis by convincing the Russians that the Western Powers cannot be blockaded out of the city.

The American military governor in Germany revealed the dramatic "air lift" expansion program at a news conference at the Pentagon building. Later the Air Force announced that it will start putting the program into effect next week.

Early tonight, Secretary of State Marshall dispatched one of his top Russian experts, Charles E. Bohlen, to London where he will confer with Ambassador Lewis Douglas and possibly British and French officials on the next joint moves by the Western Powers in the Berlin crisis.

New Note On Schedule

The first of these scheduled moves is the drafting of a new note to Moscow demanding the end of the Berlin blockade. There have been some differences between Washington and London over the extent to which this note should hold out hope to the Russians that if they will lift the blockade the Western Powers will be prepared to discuss major German issues.

Clay's disclosure topped off two days of high speed conferences during which he assured President Truman, Congress leaders and finally the American people that he does not expect the Berlin crisis to result in war.

"I don't want to minimize the seriousness of the situation," Clay said at the news conference, "but I don't think anybody in this world wants war and where no one wants war there is a prospect for a peaceful settlement. The air lift gives us time to negotiate."

Clay Flies Back To Germany

Then he left the sprawling headquarters of the nation's armed forces and sped to Washington National Airport where he boarded a plane for Berlin. Tonight he was winging across the Atlantic, hurrying back to his post to put the new American plans into operation.

Briefly, as he reported them, these are:

1. To throw a big new fleet of four-engined C-54 cargo planes into the British-American ferry service between the western zones of Germany and the western sectors of Berlin. The present daily average delivery is 2,500 tons. When the C-54s, carrying 10 tons each, replace all the two-engined C-47s, carrying 2½ tons each, the daily average delivery will be about 4,500 tons.

2. To build a new airport in Berlin which will again indefinitely enlarge the capacity of the air lift by enabling more planes to operate. The port, however, will take a considerable time to complete.

Sen. Connally To Stick With Democratic Party

WASHINGTON, July 23. (AP)—Sen. Connally (D-Tex), an opponent of President Truman's civil rights program, announced today he will support the Democratic ticket of Mr. Truman and Sen. Barkley (D-Ky).

"I have consistently supported the nominees of the Democratic Party in the past and I shall not deviate from that record now," Connally said in a statement.

He also told reporters that in his opinion "Texas Democrats will support the national ticket in November" despite their opposition to Mr. Truman at the Philadelphia convention.

Dewey And "Ike" Ask "Firmness" Against Russia

PAWLING, N. Y., July 23—(AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey and Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower today called for "absolute firmness" against Russia in the Berlin crisis.

Dewey, the Republican presidential candidate, told reporters after a conference with Eisenhower at the Governor's farm here:

"We agreed our country must stand with absolute firmness in Berlin and at the same time neglect no avenues toward the finding of a peaceable solution."

Eisenhower came to Pawling at Dewey's request. For three hours they discussed the European situation in general, the Berlin blockade in detail and means of improving unification of the United States armed services.

Both emphasized the meeting was non-political.

Pilot Of Airplane Which "Bombed" U.N. Surrenders

Set Off Dynamite Attached By Wire

NEW HAVEN, Conn., July 23 (AP)—Calmly walking into a newspaper office and identifying himself, the ex-Army flier who bombed the United Nations headquarters said today he intended to harm no one by his act.

Stephen J. Supina, 36, told dumbfounded reporters on the New Haven Register when he appeared unannounced in their city room that he wanted to return to Lake Success to "finish my fight for world peace."

Talking to newsmen while waiting for the police who were summoned at his own suggestion, Supina described the bomb he touched off 400 feet from the main United Nations building as a one-pound stick of dynamite trailing by 150 feet of wire from the small plane in which he swooped low over Lake Success yesterday afternoon. Two dry cell batteries supplied the electric charge with which he exploded it, he said.

Supina, his clothing soaked from walking through a heavy shower, convinced Register men of his identity by showing them his pilot's license. Later, Detective Captain Raymond J. Eagan said there was no question but that he was the widely sought flier.

Worried About New War

Supina, relatives reported, had been worried about a new war.

To members of the Register staff, City Editor Charles T. McQueeney said, Supina asserted he had dropped the missile to "make them here and abroad look to the United Nations for lasting peace."

Two New Haven detectives, summoned by McQuenney at Supina's suggestion, picked up the flier and took him to headquarters. There he was booked on a charge of being a fugitive.

Captain Eagan said Supina had quickly agreed to waive extradition. In New York, Inspector Stuyvesant Pinnell, chief of Nassau County detectives, said the flier would be taken to New York tomorrow to face a charge of illegally possessing explosives likely to cause injuries.

Supina, who fought in World War II as a B-17 turret gunner, was coatless when he walked into the Register building.

Took Bus To Hartford

The flier related that after landing the plane at LaGuardia field, he stayed nearby for about an hour expecting to be picked up.

When he remained unmolested, he said, he boarded a bus in New York for Hartford where he spent the night in a hotel.

Supina said he was on his way back to New York to surrender when lack of funds forced him to stop in New Haven.

Before Supina gave himself up,

D. W. Griffith, Famed Film Director, Star-Maker, Dies

HOLLYWOOD, July 23. (AP)—David Wark Griffith, who gave movie fans the close-up, pictures of more than one reel, and the renowned "Birth of a Nation," died today at 73.

The pioneer director and star-maker succumbed under an oxygen tent. He suffered a cerebral hemorrhage Wednesday night in his hotel suite and was taken to Temple Hospital. Physicians said the stroke paralyzed his right side.

Griffith had been inactive for many years in the industry he helped develop. In his heydey he brought to prominence such players as Mary Pickford, Dorothy and Lillian Gish, Blanche Sweet, Mae Marsh, Owen Moore, Alice Joyce, Jack and Lottie Pickford, Richard Barthelmess and Constance Talmadge.

His movies included "Hearts of the World," "Broken Blossoms," "Way Down East," "Orphans of the Storm" and "America." His last was "The Struggle" in 1931.

But "the Master," as he was known, said after retirement: "I never liked the movies when I was working in them. Directing was always a chore. Believe it or not, I always considered it a temporary thing, a sort of springboard. My lifetime ambition has been to write."

The tall, massively-built director made 432 pictures. They brought in nearly $60,000,000 at the world's boxoffices. This represented a profit of about $25,000,000 to Griffith and his associates.

His epochal "Birth of a Nation," filmed in 1915, is still shown occasionally and stands as the third biggest movie grosser in history.

New Currency Will Be Issued In Soviet Zone

"Only Legal Tender In Greater Berlin," Sokolovsky Asserts

BERLIN, July 23—(AP)—Marshall Vassily D. Sokolovsky, Russian commander in Germany, tonight decreed the issuance of a new permanent currency for Eastern Germany and Berlin. It will replace the stop-gap money with which the Russians effected a currency reform a month ago.

Sokolovsky said the new Russian money would be regarded as "the only legal tender for the Soviet occupation zone and in greater Berlin."

This was a reiteration of the Russian claim that Berlin is economically a part of the Soviet zone—a claim which the United States, Britain and France, as joint occupiers in Berlin, have disputed. In disputing it, the Western Powers have circulated their own Western Germany currency.

Sword Rattling Intensified

The Russians today intensified their sword rattling in the air corridors which Britain's air force uses in supplying blockaded Berlin. The Western Powers pondered ways of solving the Berlin crisis and the Russians went ahead with political moves to squeeze the Americans, British and French out of the city.

The British said Russian planes conducted bombing practice in the airlift corridor between Berlin and Hamburg and also firing exercises in the air. Yesterday, the British said Soviet Yak fighter planes held target practice in the Bueckeburg-Berlin corridor.

British authorities charged that the Soviet air activity was a violation of flying regulations. They said the bombing practice was conducted on an established bombing range near Kremmen, northwest of Berlin, but that no such practice had occurred there recently.

"Omnibus Warnings"

"Neither practice bombing nor air-to-air firing had been reported by the Soviet element of the Berlin air safety center in the program of flying for the day," said a British announcement.

The Russians have been posting "omnibus warnings" of their air activity in the corridor almost daily. The British and Americans regard these as intended to harass pilots flying into the city.

On the political front the Russians used their controlled press to carry their attack against the city directly to more than 2,000,000 Germans blockaded in the western sectors.

The Russians blasted the Socialist-dominated city government as

Truman Finishes New DP Measure

WASHINGTON, July 23 (AP) — The White House announced tonight that President Truman has completed work on proposed legislation designed to admit 402,000 displaced persons into the United States during the next four years.

The President will submit the bill to Congress next week in the form of an amendment to the recently-enacted displaced persons law which he has described as discriminating against Jews and some Catholic displaced persons.

The new bill would raise the number of displaced persons who could be admitted to this country from 202,000 in two years to approximately 402,000 in four years.

The three other amendments proposed in the administration measure, the White House said, would call for:

1. Elimination of all features of the law "whose effect is to discriminate by reason of race or religion."

2. Clarifying provisions which now make the law "difficult of administration."

3. Eliminate the so-called "mortgaging of the future quotas" provision of the current law.

The White House statement said the chief discrimination in the present law is the date limitation which provides that, except for the recent Czech refugees, no displaced person can immigrate unless he arrived in the western zones of Germany or Austria or in Italy, by December 22, 1945.

Missing Louisiana Boy Found Beaten To Death

VIOLET, La., July 23. (AP)—A six-year-old boy, missing from home since 11 a. m., was found bludgeoned to death in woods here late today.

Dr. Ichols Trist, St. Bernard Parish (county) coroner, said the lad "definitely was murdered."

He said death was due to head wounds.

Prices Hit Record Peak With Worst Seen Yet To Come

Ex-OPA Boss To Help Truman Prepare Bill

WASHINGTON, July 23 (AP)—The government's cost of living index has reached the highest point in history.

In cold figures, the Bureau of Labor Statistics summed up the hottest issue for Americans today: The cost of goods and services bought by families of moderate income in large cities on June 15 hit 171.7 per cent of the 1935-39 average. This compared with 129.3 per cent at the end of World War II.

Worse apparently was yet to come, for the wholesale price average last Saturday set new records. It stood at 168.9 per cent of the 1926 average compared with the previous record of 167 per cent in 1920. These wholesale price increases have yet to show up in the retail price index.

OPA's Ghost Stirred

The ghost of OPA was stirred by the price advances, and President Truman announced appointment of Paul A. Porter, the last of the price administrators, as a special assistant to help prepare anti-inflation legislation.

Mr. Truman is to give Congress his ideas of how to handle the situation next Tuesday. What his plans are in detail, and whether Congress will regard them as workable, remain to be seen.

The President in the past has called for standby authority to impose price and wage controls in various fields as needed. Opponents have said that it would be impossible to regulate some items and not all. They take the position, too, that Americans won't stand for controls in peacetime.

Brown Says Truman Lax

Rep. Clarence J. Brown (R-Ohio) said today that Mr. Truman himself has been lax in fighting inflation. Brown said the Republicans will do what they can to stop rising prices, in the session beginning Monday. He said the GOP will act "of its own volition."

Republican policy makers will meet Monday morning to go over plans for the session which Mr. Truman called over their protests that he was inspired by politics.

One prominent Republican leader said privately that he expects the session to last no longer than a month and to produce little if any in the way of new legislation.

Porter's new assignment will be to co-ordinate information for con-

Trail Ends For Two Gunmen Who Killed Seven In Two Weeks

One Dies, Other Gives Up In Gun Battle; Two Officers Are Wounded

VAN WERT, O., July 23 (AP) — Leaving seven murder victims in their wake during a 14-day killing spree, two 22-year-old reformatory parolees reached the end of the trail today.

One, fighting it out to the last, was shot between the eyes and killed by a police officer at a road block near here. The other, whimpering, gave up without a struggle. Their death toll—five men and two women.

Killed in the final gunfight was John Coulter West, former Parkersburg, W. Va., youth, slain by Sgt. L. D. Conn, 42, Van Wert policeman. Conn, seriously wounded by a slug in his chest, killed West as the officer lay in the middle of the highway.

Captured was Robert W. Daniels, Columbus, who gave up to Sheriff Roy Shaffer, of Van Wert County, without lifting a finger, ignoring a rifle and two pistols which lay on an automobile seat beside him.

Prosecutor Theodore Lutz, of Richland County, said first degree murder charges would be filed at Mansfield tomorrow against Daniels for killing John E. Niebel, Mansfield reformatory farm superintendent, his wife and daughter.

Moved To Celina, O., Jail

Apparently an understanding had been reached that other counties would waive their claim to the prisoner and that he would be turned over to Richland County, site of the reformatory.

Daniels was transferred to the Mercer County Jail at Celina, about 25 miles south of here, tonight.

Assistant Prosecutor Sumner Walter said the 22-year-old youth was moved as a "precautionary measure."

Walters said he did not expect mob violence against Daniels and added the crowds milling around the Van Wert jail had been orderly.

The two desperadoes were captured only a few hours after the seventh of their slayings, and their second of last night and early today. At Tiffin, 85 miles east, they had killed Orville Taylor, 28, Niles, Mich., to obtain his driveaway truck, loaded with four Studebaker cars, in an attempt to sneak through an ever-tightening noose of law enforcement officers.

Only a couple of hours earlier they had slain a 25-year-old Tiffin farmer, James Smith, as he sat

Undertakers Are Sued For Burying Woman Day Early

CHICAGO, July 23—(INS)—The burial of a Chicago woman one day earlier than scheduled resulted today in a $20,000 damage suit against the undertakers.

Samuel Pierce charged in the suit that the Metropolitan Funeral Home buried his wife's body "by mistake" one day before the actual funeral was scheduled.

Pierce, 46-year-old city employe, related that 200 of his relatives gathered for the funeral February 10 but there was no body in evidence.

Pierce said the undertaker finally admitted the services for his wife, Katie, 38, had been held the day before.

General Survives Crash Of Bomber

NEWARK, N. J., July 23—(AP)—A United States Air Force B-25 bomber carrying Maj. Gen. Robert M. Webster crashed and burned today while making a landing at Newark airport.

Webster, commanding general of the First Air Force, escaped with only minor face cuts. Also slightly injured was Capt. Wilbur W. Walton, East Lansing, Mich.

Two others in the plane, Capt. William P. Reny, West Newton, Mass., and Master Sgt. Martin Barth, New York City, were uninjured, said First Air Force headquarters at Fort Slocum, N. Y.

A spokesman at Fort Slocum said earlier reports of more serious injuries were unfounded. The men were taken to St. James Hospital, where Webster and Walton were treated.

Webster formerly headed the Air Transport Command and led a combat wing in Sicily and Italy during the war. His home is in Worcester, Mass.

The Air Force said the plane evidently overshot the southwest runway, crashed on the ground and caught fire. The occupants of the plane got out before the flames engulfed the plane.

Congressmen Interested In Baltic Pilgrims' Case

BOSTON, July 23. (AP)—A band of 29 Baltic pilgrims seeking a haven from "Russian oppression" set foot on United States soil for the first time today after a 43-day Atlantic crossing. Almost immediately they found champions in two Massachusetts congressmen.

Rep. John W. McCormack, minority floor leader in the House, said he would ask Congress to permit their entry.

Rep. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) wired the Immigration Service that he was "deeply interested in the 29 Latvian refugees who fled the iron curtain." He asked that they be admitted temporarily pending the outcome of their cases.

Destroy A-Bombs And Repeal Draft, New Party Urges

Platform Also Calls For Peace With USSR

PHILADELPHIA, July 23. (AP)—Destruction of all atom bombs, repeal of the draft law and peace with Russia! That was the cry today of Henry Wallace's third party in the semi-final draft of its 6,500-word platform.

The platform, being whipped into final shape by the 74-member party resolutions committee, calls also for "full equality" for negroes and other minorities.

It asks government ownership of a large segment of the nation's economy—at first the large banks, railroads and electric power and gas industries.

It demands a return to price controls to fight the high cost of living.

It promises "a greater New Deal."

Bonus For War Veterans

It proposes a federal bonus for war veterans "based on length of service."

In the "peace, freedom and abundance" platform the party declares itself the heir of "Jefferson, Jackson and Lincoln—of Frederick Douglass, Altgeld and Debs—of Wilson and Franklin D. Roosevelt."

Here are other things the preliminary draft proposes:

United Nations—"The New Party will work to realize Franklin D. Roosevelt's ideal of the United Nations as a true world family of nations, by defending its Charter and seeking to prevent its transformation into the diplomatic or military instrument of any one power or group of powers."

Also, in the interest of peace, repeal the peacetime draft, and repudiate the Marshall Plan for European aid and the "Truman Doctrine." Establish in the United Nations a fund to promote international recovery.

Repeal Of Labor Act

Labor — Repeal the Taft - Hartley Labor Act and "restore labor's equality in collective bargaining by re-enacting the principles of the Wagner and Norris-LaGuardia Acts. Grant employes in publicly-owned industries the right to organize and to strike. A $1 an hour minimum wage for all workers.

Housing — An emergency federal housing program "to build within

Delegates Pick "Progressive" As Party Name

Conclave Launched With Bitter Attacks On Old-Line Parties

CONVENTION HALL, Philadelphia, July 23 (AP)—Founders of a new third party excitedly opened a national convention tonight, proclaiming that America's choice is "Wallace or war."

Already the delegates have picked their ticket informally—Henry A. Wallace for President, Sen. Glen Taylor, of Idaho, for his running mate. Tomorrow they make it official.

Tonight they laid the groundwork and gave their party a name. It is the "Progressive Party," a unanimous choice.

And they put on a typical political convention demonstration for Keynote Speaker Charles P. Howard, a tall, powerfully-built negro who jabbed with a handkerchief at sweat pouring from chin to manuscript.

Howard told his whoop-it-up audience that for the future the new party sees a choice between Wallace and a war that will end civilization.

The delegates also:

Rolled out campaign songs with camp meeting fervor and banjo and accordion accompaniment.

Hooted and hissed at the GOP, the Democrats, high prices, foreign policy, Congress, "Jim Crowism."

Wallace, Taylor Absent

Wallace and Taylor didn't show up for the convention sendoff. Even when things are cinched, it isn't considered good taste for prospective candidates to appear in advance of their nominations.

But hundreds of delegates and thousands of onlookers piled into this big barn of a hall and sweated it out through hours of music, speech-making, and routine business.

The convention got going at 7:02 p. m. (E.S.T.) and quit at 10:55 p. m. until tomorrow morning.

In the interval, Howard and others stepped briskly to the speaker's platform to pound away at the old-line political parties and crook a finger at the "plain people" of America to join the fight against them.

"Now at last," Howard said, "the people of America come to convention.

"We meet in a historic hall, still haunted by the ghosts of a Republican circus and a Democratic funeral.

"Listen closely, and you can still hear the echoes of the back-room deal and the machine-made sellout.

"We meet in a hall still littered with the phoney promises of bargain-basement politicians and corporation counsels.

"Money-Changers" Gone

"Well, the carbon-copy conventions are over. The money changers are gone from this temple. Now at last we have come to say what the people need, what the people demand, and what the people shall have."

Wallace And Newsmen In Clash Over "Guru"

PHILADELPHIA, July 23 (AP) — Henry Wallace and newspaper correspondents spent an angry and fruitless hour today on the subject of an eastern mystic named "Guru."

The clash took up much of the time of a news conference the new party presidential candidate held on the opening day of his national convention.

Correspondents, angered because he called some of them "stooges" for bringing up "Guru," refused to be put aside and asked the same question again and again, but with no success.

For some months, Westbrook Pegler, a columnist, has been writing about a set of letters. He has asked whether Wallace wrote some mystic notes to a man he addressed as "Guru." Pegler also has attempted to determine whether this man influenced Wallace's thinking and his policies.

Hartley Would Do Away With Union Shop Election

WASHINGTON, July 23 (AP) — A fresh move developed in Congress today to change the Taft-Hartley Act so union shop elections would be unnecessary.

Just the same, charges of bypassing the act's union shop requirements continued against John L. Lewis and the United Mine Workers. A National Labor Relations Board trial examiner, after two days of testimony, recessed his hearing until Monday.

Lewis may be called as a witness at that time to explain why he insisted on retaining the union shop provision in his new July 1 contract, even though it collided with the Taft-Hartley Act. Lewis has fought the act and refuses to sign the non-Communist affidavits which would make him eligible to ask for the NLRB election as laid out by the law.

Steel company "captive" mines were shut down for 10 days in a strike over the issue. Other operators agreed to Lewis' terms, but the steel companies complained to the NLRB. They asked for an injunction, but Justice T. Alan Goldsborough brought about an out-of-court settlement ending the strike without a court order.

The complaint, taken up by General Counsel Robert N. Denham, is being aired before Examiner William R. Ringer.

The congressional move to amend the act—and in effect make the charges against Lewis useless—came from one of the law's authors, Rep. Hartley (R-NJ).

Hartley said experience of the first 11 months under the act had proven the union shop elections to be costly and the results were nearly always overwhelmingly for the union.

Hartley also suggested that employers might be required also to submit affidavits disavowing Communism before they could use NLRB machinery.

U. S. To Expand Berlin 'Air Lift'

C-54s Will Be Used; Move Seen Boosting Settlement Chances

WASHINGTON, July 23 (AP)—The United States soon will double the capacity of the airplane fleet carrying supplies to beleaguered Berlin, Gen. Lucius D. Clay announced today.

He expects this to increase the chances for a peaceful settlement of the crisis by convincing the Russians that the Western Powers cannot be blockaded out of the city.

The American military governor in Germany revealed the dramatic "air lift" expansion program at a news conference at the Pentagon building. Later the Air Force announced that it will start putting the program into effect next week.

Early tonight, Secretary of State Marshall dispatched one of his top Russian experts, Charles E. Bohlen, to London where he will confer with Ambassador Lewis Douglas and possibly British and French officials on the next joint moves by the Western Powers in the Berlin crisis.

New Note On Schedule

The first of these scheduled moves is the drafting of a new note to Moscow demanding the end of the Berlin blockade. There have been some differences between Washington and London over the extent to which this note should hold out hope to the Russians that if they will lift the blockade the Western Powers will be prepared to discuss major German issues.

Clay's disclosure topped off two days of high speed conferences during which he assured President Truman, Congress leaders and finally the American people that he does not expect the Berlin crisis to result in war.

"I don't want to minimize the seriousness of the situation," Clay said at the news conference, "but I don't think anybody in this world wants war and where no one wants war there is a prospect for a peaceful settlement. The air lift gives us time to negotiate."

Clay Flies Back To Germany

Then he left the sprawling headquarters of the nation's armed forces and sped to Washington National Airport where he boarded a plane for Berlin. Tonight he was winging across the Atlantic, hurrying back to his post to put the new American plans into operation.

Briefly, as he reported them, these are:

1. To throw a big new fleet of four-engined C-54 cargo planes into the British-American ferry service between the western zones of Germany and the western sectors of Berlin. The present daily average delivery is 2,500 tons. When the C-54s, carrying 10 tons each, replace all the two-engined C-47s, carrying 2½ tons each, the daily average delivery will be about 4,500 tons.

2. To build a new airport in Berlin which will again indefinitely enlarge the capacity of the air lift by enabling more planes to operate. The port, however, will take a considerable time to complete.

Sen. Connally To Stick With Democratic Party

WASHINGTON, July 23. (AP)—Sen. Connally (D-Tex), an opponent of President Truman's civil rights program, announced today he will support the Democratic ticket of Mr. Truman and Sen. Barkley (D-Ky).

"I have consistently supported the nominees of the Democratic Party in the past and I shall not deviate from that record now," Connally said in a statement.

He also told reporters that in his opinion "Texas Democrats will support the national ticket in November" despite their opposition to Mr. Truman at the Philadelphia convention.

Dewey And "Ike" Ask "Firmness" Against Russia

PAWLING, N. Y., July 23—(AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey and Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower today called for "absolute firmness" against Russia in the Berlin crisis.

Dewey, the Republican presidential candidate, told reporters after a conference with Eisenhower at the Governor's farm here:

"We agreed our country must stand with absolute firmness in Berlin and at the same time neglect no avenues toward the finding of a peaceable solution."

Eisenhower came to Pawling at Dewey's request. For three hours they discussed the European situation in general, the Berlin blockade in detail and means of improving unification of the United States armed services.

Both emphasized the meeting was non-political.

Pilot Of Airplane Which "Bombed" U.N. Surrenders

Set Off Dynamite Attached By Wire

NEW HAVEN, Conn., July 23 (AP)—Calmly walking into a newspaper office and identifying himself, the ex-Army flier who bombed the United Nations headquarters said today he intended to harm no one by his act.

Stephen J. Supina, 36, told dumbfounded reporters on the New Haven Register when he appeared unannounced in their city room that he wanted to return to Lake Success to "finish my fight for world peace."

Talking to newsmen while waiting for the police who were summoned at his own suggestion, Supina described the bomb he touched off 400 feet from the main United Nations building as a one-pound stick of dynamite trailing by 150 feet of wire from the small plane in which he swooped low over Lake Success yesterday afternoon. Two dry cell batteries supplied the electric charge with which he exploded it, he said.

Supina, his clothing soaked from walking through a heavy shower, convinced Register men of his identity by showing them his pilot's license. Later, Detective Captain Raymond J. Eagan said there was no question but that he was the widely sought flier.

Worried About New War

Supina, relatives reported, had been worried about a new war.

To members of the Register staff, City Editor Charles T. McQueeney said, Supina asserted he had dropped the missile to "make them here and abroad look to the United Nations for lasting peace."

Two New Haven detectives, summoned by McQuenney at Supina's suggestion, picked up the flier and took him to headquarters. There he was booked on a charge of being a fugitive.

Captain Eagan said Supina had quickly agreed to waive extradition. In New York, Inspector Stuyvesant Pinnell, chief of Nassau County detectives, said the flier would be taken to New York tomorrow to face a charge of illegally possessing explosives likely to cause injuries.

Supina, who fought in World War II as a B-17 turret gunner, was coatless when he walked into the Register building.

Took Bus To Hartford

The flier related that after landing the plane at LaGuardia field, he stayed nearby for about an hour expecting to be picked up.

When he remained unmolested, he said, he boarded a bus in New York for Hartford where he spent the night in a hotel.

Supina said he was on his way back to New York to surrender when lack of funds forced him to stop in New Haven.

New Currency Will Be Issued In Soviet Zone

"Only Legal Tender In Greater Berlin," Sokolovsky Asserts

BERLIN, July 23—(AP)—Marshall Vassily D. Sokolovsky, Russian commander in Germany, tonight decreed the issuance of a new permanent currency for Eastern Germany and Berlin. It will replace the stop-gap money with which the Russians effected a currency reform a month ago.

Sokolovsky said the new Russian money would be regarded as "the only legal tender for the Soviet occupation zone and in greater Berlin."

This was a reiteration of the Russian claim that Berlin is economically a part of the Soviet zone—a claim which the United States, Britain and France, as joint occupiers in Berlin, have disputed. In disputing it, the Western Powers have circulated their own Western Germany currency.

Sword Rattling Intensified

The Russians today intensified their sword rattling in the air corridors which Britain's air force uses in supplying blockaded Berlin. The Western Powers pondered ways of solving the Berlin crisis and the Russians went ahead with political moves to squeeze the Americans, British and French out of the city.

The British said Russian planes conducted bombing practice in the airlift corridor between Berlin and Hamburg and also firing exercises in the air. Yesterday, the British said Soviet Yak fighter planes held target practice in the Bueckeburg-Berlin corridor.

British authorities charged that the Soviet air activity was a violation of flying regulations. They said the bombing practice was conducted on an established bombing range near Kremmen, northwest of Berlin, but that no such practice had occurred there recently.

"Omnibus Warnings"

"Neither practice bombing nor air-to-air firing had been reported by the Soviet element of the Berlin air safety center in the program of flying for the day," said a British announcement.

The Russians have been posting "omnibus warnings" of their air activity in the corridor almost daily. The British and Americans regard these as intended to harass pilots flying into the city.

On the political front the Russians used their controlled press to carry their attack against the city directly to more than 2,000,000 Germans blockaded in the western sectors.

Truman Finishes New DP Measure

WASHINGTON, July 23 (AP) — The White House announced tonight that President Truman has completed work on proposed legislation designed to admit 402,000 displaced persons into the United States during the next four years.

The President will submit the bill to Congress next week in the form of an amendment to the recently-enacted displaced persons law which he has described as discriminating against Jews and some Catholic displaced persons.

The new bill would raise the number of displaced persons who could be admitted to this country from 202,000 in two years to approximately 402,000 in four years.

The three other amendments proposed in the administration measure, the White House said, would call for:

1. Elimination of all features of the law "whose effect is to discriminate by reason of race or religion."
2. Clarifying provisions which now make the law "difficult of administration."
3. Eliminate the so-called "mortgaging of the future quotas" provision of the current law.

The White House statement said the chief discrimination in the present law is the date limitation which provides that, except for the recent Czech refugees, no displaced person can immigrate unless he arrived in the western zones of Germany or Austria or in Italy, by December 22, 1945.

D. W. Griffith, Famed Film Director, Star-Maker, Dies

HOLLYWOOD, July 23. (AP)—David Wark Griffith, who gave movie fans the close-up, pictures of more than one reel, and the renowned "Birth of a Nation," died today at 73.

The pioneer director and star-maker succumbed under an oxygen tent. He suffered a cerebral hemorrhage Wednesday night in his hotel suite and was taken to Temple Hospital. Physicians said the stroke paralyzed his right side.

Griffith had been inactive for many years in the industry he helped develop. In his heydey he brought to prominence such players as Mary Pickford, Dorothy and Lillian Gish, Blanche Sweet, Mae Marsh, Owen Moore, Alice Joyce, Jack and Lottie Pickford, Richard Barthelmess and Constance Talmadge.

His movies included "Hearts of the World," "Broken Blossoms," "Way Down East," "Orphans of the Storm" and "America." His last was "The Struggle" in 1931.

But "the Master," as he was known, said after retirement: "I never liked the movies when I was working in them. Directing was always a chore. Believe it or not, I always considered it a temporary thing, a sort of springboard. My lifetime ambition has been to write."

The tall, massively-built director made 432 pictures. They brought in nearly $60,000,000 at the world's boxoffices. This represented a profit of about $25,000,000 to Griffith and his associates.

His epochal "Birth of a Nation," filmed in 1915, is still shown occasionally and stands as the third biggest movie grosser in history.

Missing Louisiana Boy Found Beaten To Death

VIOLET, La., July 23. (AP)—A six-year-old boy, missing from home since 11 a. m., was found bludgeoned to death in woods here late today.

Dr. Ichols Trist, St. Bernard Parish (county) coroner, said the lad "definitely was murdered."

He said death was due to head wounds.

Prices Hit Record Peak With Worst Seen Yet To Come

Ex-OPA Boss To Help Truman Prepare Bill

WASHINGTON, July 23 (AP)—The government's cost of living index has reached the highest point in history.

In cold figures, the Bureau of Labor Statistics summed up the hottest issue for Americans today: The cost of goods and services bought by families of moderate income in large cities on June 15 hit 171.7 per cent of the 1935-39 average. This compared with 129.3 per cent at the end of World War II.

Worse apparently was yet to come, for the wholesale price average last Saturday set new records. It stood at 168.9 per cent of the 1926 average compared with the previous record of 167 per cent in 1920. These wholesale price increases have yet to show up in the retail price index.

OPA's Ghost Stirred

The ghost of OPA was stirred by the price advances, and President Truman announced appointment of Paul A. Porter, the last of the price administrators, as a special assistant to help prepare anti-inflation legislation.

Mr. Truman is to give Congress his ideas of how to handle the situation next Tuesday. What his plans are in detail, and whether Congress will regard them as workable, remain to be seen.

The President in the past has called for standby authority to impose price and wage controls in various fields as needed. Opponents have said that it would be impossible to regulate some items and not all. They take the position, too, that Americans won't stand for controls in peacetime.

Brown Says Truman Lax

Rep. Clarence J. Brown (R-Ohio) said today that Mr. Truman himself has been lax in fighting inflation. Brown said the Republicans will do what they can to stop rising prices, in the session beginning Monday. He said the GOP will act "of its own volition."

Republican policy makers will meet Monday morning to go over plans for the session which Mr. Truman called over their protests that he was inspired by politics.

One prominent Republican leader said privately that he expects the session to last no longer than a month and to produce little if any in the way of new legislation.

Porter's new assignment will be to co-ordinate information for con-

Trail Ends For Two Gunmen Who Killed Seven In Two Weeks

Undertakers Are Sued For Burying Woman Day Early

CHICAGO, July 23—(INS)—The burial of a Chicago woman one day earlier than scheduled resulted today in a $20,000 damage suit against the undertakers.

Samuel Pierce charged in the suit that the Metropolitan Funeral Home buried his wife's body "by mistake" one day before the actual funeral was scheduled.

Pierce, 46-year-old city employe, related that 200 of his relatives gathered for the funeral February 10 but there was no body in evidence.

Pierce said the undertaker finally admitted the services for his wife, Katie, 38, had been held the day before.

General Survives Crash Of Bomber

NEWARK, N. J., July 23—(AP)—A United States Air Force B-25 bomber carrying Maj. Gen. Robert M. Webster crashed and burned today while making a landing at Newark airport.

Webster, commanding general of the First Air Force, escaped with only minor face cuts. Also slightly injured was Capt. Wilbur W. Walton, East Lansing, Mich.

Two others in the plane, Capt. William P. Reny, West Newton, Mass., and Master Sgt. Martin Barth, New York City, were uninjured, said First Air Force headquarters at Fort Slocum, N. Y.

A spokesman at Fort Slocum said earlier reports of more serious injuries were unfounded. The men were taken to St. James Hospital, where Webster and Walton were treated.

Webster formerly headed the Air Transport Command and led a combat wing in Sicily and Italy during the war. His home is in Worcester, Mass.

The Air Force said the plane evidently overshot the southwest runway, crashed on the ground and caught fire. The occupants of the plane got out before the flames engulfed the plane.

One Dies, Other Gives Up In Gun Battle; Two Officers Are Wounded

VAN WERT, O., July 23 (AP) — Leaving seven murder victims in their wake during a 14-day killing spree, two 22-year-old reformatory parolees reached the end of the trail today.

One, fighting it out to the last, was shot between the eyes and killed by a police officer at a road block near here. The other, whimpering, gave up without a struggle. Their death toll—five men and two women.

Killed in the final gunfight was John Coulter West, former Parkersburg, W. Va., youth, slain by Sgt. L. D. Conn, 42, Van Wert policeman. Conn, seriously wounded by a slug in his chest, killed West as the officer lay in the middle of the highway.

Captured was Robert W. Daniels, Columbus, who gave up to Sheriff Roy Shaffer, of Van Wert County, without lifting a finger, ignoring a rifle and two pistols which lay on an automobile seat beside him.

Prosecutor Theodore Lutz, of Richland County, said first degree murder charges would be filed at Mansfield tomorrow against Daniels for killing John E. Niebel, Mansfield reformatory farm superintendent, his wife and daughter.

Moved To Celina, O., Jail

Apparently an understanding had been reached that other counties would waive their claim to the prisoner and that he would be turned over to Richland County, site of the reformatory.

Daniels was transferred to the Mercer County Jail at Celina, about 25 miles south of here, tonight.

Assistant Prosecutor Sumner Walter said the 22-year-old youth was moved as a "precautionary measure."

Walters said he did not expect mob violence against Daniels and added the crowds milling around the Van Wert jail had been orderly.

The two desperadoes were captured only a few hours after the seventh of their slayings, and their second of last night and early today. At Tiffin, 85 miles east, they had killed Orville Taylor, 28, Niles, Mich., to obtain his driveaway truck, loaded with four Studebaker cars, in an attempt to sneak through an ever-tightening noose of law enforcement officers.

Only a couple of hours earlier they had slain a 25-year-old Tiffin farmer, James Smith, as he sat

Congressmen Interested In Baltic Pilgrims' Case

BOSTON, July 23. (AP)—A band of 29 Baltic pilgrims seeking a haven from "Russian oppression" set foot on United States soil for the first time today after a 43-day Atlantic crossing. Almost immediately they found champions in two Massachusetts congressmen.

Rep. John W. McCormack, minority floor leader in the House, said he would ask Congress to permit their entry.

Rep. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) wired the Immigration Service that he was "deeply interested in the 29 Latvian refugees who fled the iron curtain." He asked that they be admitted temporarily pending the outcome of their cases.

Destroy A-Bombs And Repeal Draft, New Party Urges

Platform Also Calls For Peace With USSR

PHILADELPHIA, July 23. (AP)—Destruction of all atom bombs, repeal of the draft law and peace with Russia! That was the cry today of Henry Wallace's third party in the semi-final draft of its 6,500-word platform.

The platform, being whipped into final shape by the 74-member party resolutions committee, calls also for "full equality" for negroes and other minorities.

It asks government ownership of a large segment of the nation's economy—at first the large banks, railroads and electric power and gas industries.

It demands a return to price controls to fight the high cost of living.

Bonus For War Veterans

It proposes a federal bonus for war veterans "based on length of service."

In the "peace, freedom and abundance" platform the party declares itself the heir of "Jefferson, Jackson and Lincoln—of Frederick Douglass, Altgeld and Debs—of Wilson and Franklin D. Roosevelt."

Here are other things the preliminary draft proposes:

United Nations—"The New Party will work to realize Franklin D. Roosevelt's ideal of the United Nations as a true world family of nations, by defending its Charter and seeking to prevent its transformation into the diplomatic or military instrument of any one power or group of powers."

Also, in the interest of peace, repeal the peacetime draft, and repudiate the Marshall Plan for European aid and the "Truman Doctrine." Establish in the United Nations a fund to promote international recovery.

Repeal Of Labor Act

Labor — Repeal the Taft - Hartley Labor Act and "restore labor's equality in collective bargaining by re-enacting the principles of the Wagner and Norris-LaGuardia Acts. Grant employes in publicly-owned industries the right to organize and to strike. A $1 an hour minimum wage for all workers.

Delegates Pick "Progressive" As Party Name

Conclave Launched With Bitter Attacks On Old-Line Parties

CONVENTION HALL, Philadelphia, July 23 (AP) — Founders of a new third party excitedly opened a national convention tonight, proclaiming that America's choice is "Wallace or war."

Already the delegates have picked their ticket informally — Henry A. Wallace for President, Sen. Glen Taylor, of Idaho, for his running mate. Tomorrow they make it official.

Tonight they laid the groundwork and gave their party a name. It is the 'Progressive Party," a unanimous choice.

And they put on a typical political convention demonstration for Keynote Speaker Charles P. Howard, a tall, powerfully-built negro who jabbed with a handkerchief at sweat pouring from chin to manuscript.

Howard told his whoop-it-up audience that for the future the new party sees a choice between Wallace and a war that will end civilization.

The delegates also:

Rolled out campaign songs with camp meeting fervor and banjo and accordion accompaniment.

Hooted and hissed at the GOP, the Democrats, high prices, foreign policy, Congress, "Jim Crowism."

Wallace, Taylor Absent

Wallace and Taylor didn't show up for the convention sendoff. Even when things are cinched, it isn't considered good taste for prospective candidates to appear in advance of their nominations.

But hundreds of delegates and thousands of onlookers piled into this big barn of a hall and sweated it out through hours of music, speech-making, and routine business.

The convention got going at 7:08 p. m. (E.S.T.) and quit at 10:55 p. m. until tomorrow morning.

In the interval, Howard and others stepped briskly to the speaker's platform to pound away at the old-line political parties and crook a finger at the "plain people" of America to join the fight against them.

"Now at last," Howard said, "the people of America come to convention.

"We meet in a historic hall, still haunted by the ghosts of a Republican circus and a Democratic funeral.

"Listen closely, and you can still hear the echoes of the back-room deal and the machine-made sellout.

"We meet in a hall still littered with the phoney promises of bargain-basement politicians and corporation counsels.

"Money-Changers" Gone

"Well, the carbon-copy conventions are over. The money changers are gone from this temple. Now at last we have come to say what the people need, what the people demand, and what the people shall have."

Wallace And Newsmen In Clash Over "Guru"

PHILADELPHIA, July 23 (AP) — Henry Wallace and newspaper correspondents spent an angry and fruitless hour today on the subject of an eastern mystic named "Guru."

The clash took up much of the time of a news conference the new party presidential candidate held on the opening day of his national convention.

Correspondents, angered because he called some of them "stooges" for bringing up "Guru," refused to be put aside and asked the same question again and again, but with no success.

For some months, Westbrook Pegler, a columnist, has been writing about a set of letters. He has asked whether Wallace wrote some mystic notes to a man he addressed as "Guru." Pegler also has attempted to determine whether this man influenced Wallace's thinking and his policies.

Hartley Would Do Away With Union Shop Election

WASHINGTON, July 23 (AP) — A fresh move developed in Congress today to change the Taft-Hartley Act so union shop elections would be unnecessary.

Just the same, charges of bypassing the act's union shop requirements continued against John L. Lewis and the United Mine Workers. A National Labor Relations Board trial examiner, after two days of testimony, recessed his hearing until Monday.

Lewis may be called as a witness at that time to explain why he insisted on retaining the union shop provision in his new July 1 contract, even though it collided with the Taft-Hartley Act. Lewis has fought the act and refuses to sign the non-Communist affidavits which would make him eligible to ask for the NLRB election as laid out by the law.

Steel company "captive" mines were shut down for 10 days in a strike over the issue. Other operators agreed to Lewis' terms, but the steel companies complained to the NLRB. They asked for an injunction, but Justice T. Alan Goldsborough brought about an out-of-court settlement ending the strike without a court order.

The complaint, taken up by General Counsel Robert N. Denham, is being aired before Examiner William R. Ringer.

The congressional move to amend the act—and in effect make the charges against Lewis useless—came from one of the law's authors, Rep. Hartley (R-NJ).

Hartley said experience of the first 11 months under the act had proven the union shop elections to be costly and the results were nearly always overwhelmingly for the union.

Hartley also suggested that employers might be required also to submit affidavits disavowing Communism before they could use NLRB machinery.

C-DAY NEARS FOR EUROPE'S RATS AS U. S. PLANS TO EXPORT CATS TO WAR ON OLD WORLD'S RODENTS

OPERATION MEOW—Rough time ahead for Europe's rats when CEF (Cat Expeditionary Force) lands there.

By SIMPSON M. RITTER
Central Press Corrospondent

NEW YORK—Twice within the memory of most of us the United States has sent men and arms to Europe to preserve democracy. Many more times she has sent her dollar totaling into the tens of billions, mile long trains of food, libraries of books, shiploads of machinery, and sufficient clothing to dress a fourth of that unhappy continent's population.

Now Europe asks us, out of our generosity and abundance, for cats. Europe asks for one million cats to preserve her shadowy harvests, defend American sent grain on her docks and in her mills, and halt the threat of plague.

In a two column news-editorial, evidently based on earlier agricultural reports, the London Daily Mirror asked the United States to send across one million fighting felines to annihilate the rat race rampaging over Europe.

Robert Lothar Kendell, president of the American Feline society, New York City, accepted the challenge though he reduced the expeditionary force to 50,000 in view of the elaborate costs and preparations necessary to send cats Europeward, and worked out a detailed battle plan.

Letters deliniating the plan and the offer of assistance were forwarded at once to Secretary George C. Marshall and to Lord Inverchapel, the British ambassador to the United States.

TO DATE the society, drawing principally from its membership in 39 of the United States, several providences of Canada, and from Puerto Rico, has recruited an initial force of 4,000 felines whom they hope to send on their way as soon as the red tape can be sliced.

Advance stores of special, tested foods will be shipped first. The cats will go by air in flights of 1,666 each. Crate packed in squads of five and with sufficient food for the voyage over and initial deployment, each flight will come to about 13,000 pounds.

At a cost of $1.17 per pound that is more than 15,000 dollars per trip and about $38,000 for the first wave of 4,000 cats. Shipping 50,000 cats, discounting advance food shipments, will cost about $1,150,000.

form of insurance against rodent destruction.

Before acceptance all recruits are checked for health and temperament. Those that pass the rigid physical receive necessary innoculations, a "dog (ugly word) tag" for identification which will be attached to the left ear, and an indoctrination course.

Kendell prefers alley cats. These, he points out, have probably had recent experience in stalking rats and are tougher in constitution. Pedigreed cats are fine but probably lack the stamina and have grown fastidious.

Once the cats reach Europe and have passed through the various quarantines and further physical entrance examinations which vary from country to country they will be released in combat teams of two and four wherever necessary. Principal designated posts at present include docks, grannaries and mills.

These cats will be the property of the government where released and in no sense personal pets of any individual. The respective governments will be held strictly accountable by Kendell's group and other aelourophiles for the proper keeping and feeding of the animal soldiers.

IF IT WERE NOT for America's 21,000,000 cats, of whom we could easily spare a million for Europe if the shipping costs were less, says Kendell, our own farmers and food storage centers might be as badly off as their European equivalents.

According to food statisticians each rat costs the American farmer an annual loss of four dollars in destroyed or damaged crops that can never be sent to market. Squirrels and chipmunks and other animals of the rodent type with whom cats naturally feud are responsible for further but less extensive losses.

However, these fighting cats, whether in Europe or in this country, must be fed by man, caution the cat people. A hungry cat, says Kendell, quickly loses interest in sport and stalking rats is a sport with cats which they practice only when otherwise content.

A cat's primary need is food and this it will not obtain, contrary to popular conception, by killing rats. Cats eat mice but never rats. The tails and hides of the larger rodents are poisonous.

A domesticated cat cannot be expected to live solely on mouse meat. Cats want milk, fish, fowl and meats similar to those eaten by man. In their natural wild stage cats subsist principally on birds, insects and fish, and to a lesser extent on mice.

Cats go after not only rats but other animals and insects and birds that ravage farm crops. Cats are multipurpose. To do half as well a dozen different types of traps and a dozen different types of chemicals would be required, assert the aelourphiles. That's why Europe, whose cat population has been sadly depleted by the war, needs American volunteers.

In addition to poor indigenous crops in Europe today due to loss of farm animals, machinery and exhausted and poisoned soil, and inferior seeds, fully 50 per cent of most American food shipments to the "Marshall countries" are damaged by rodents.

THE RATS begin their war on foodstuffs aboard the ships, continue at the docks in Europe, attack again in warehouses and mills, and make a final assault at the distribution centers and in homes.

Officials of the United Nations' Food and Agricultural organization, popularly known as the FAO, pointed out that cats are more urgently needed in those "Marshall countries" whose agricultural methods are primitive. These countries lack mechanical and chemical means of protecting the soil, of sewing seed and of harvesting.

Europeans also know from centuries of unhappy experience that whenever and wherever the rodent population grows plague is not far behind. Rodents are notorious carriers of the more deadly types of bacteria. Egypt's recent cholera epidemic was very likely a result of inadequate rodent control.

Aelourophiles cite impressive examples of communities as far afield as India, China and Japan which are never troubled by diseases because they are rat free, thanks to sufficient cats.

Some communities, such as Hong Kong, make it compulsory upon householders to maintain cats in numbers proportionate to the size of the house and the number of inhabitants.

The United States Post Office keeps cats on its payroll as a form of insurance against rodent destruction.

Teamsters Will Act Sunday On Winchester Offer

Winchester, Va., members of Local 453, Teamsters and Chauffeurs Union, will meet in the union hall there Sunday at 11:30 a. m. to act on a wage and contract offer of over-the-road and city trucking firms of Winchester, C. E. Stutzman, business manager, said.

He said the firms, including the Novick, Super Service, Mason and Dixon, Elliott and Allegany freight lines and Smith Transfer Company there have offered a 7½ cent increase for city drivers, 10 cents for garage mechanics and helpers and an .0015 a mile increase for over-the-road drivers.

The company offer was made at a conference held there Thursday Stutzman said part of the offer may be approved tomorrow.

The contracts affecting some 400 men do not expire until August 31. The union said the companies want to put the increases into effect upon signing of the agreement with the stipulation that other items in the contract remain the same.

Contracts for such drivers in the Cumberland area were settled in a two-year contract last year. That contract provided for an increase of three cents an hour for city drivers effective September 1, 1948, with comparable increases for over-the-road men.

Stutzman, C. E. Bramble, president, and W. M. Swiggett, Winchester business manager, headed the union committee which met with operators Thursday.

the seats which were jammed on top of the three trapped passengers, rescuers explained.

The two-vehicle collision partially blocked the highway but traffic was halted only long enough for the victims to be placed in ambulances, police asserted.

The rear of the bus was resting about three feet off the east berm of the road against the guardrail and the truck was across the left side of the hard surface highway when police arrived, according to Trooper Harbert. He added that the rear wheels of the truck were about a foot in the air with the front penetrating the bus.

Authorities said they were unable to determine the destinations of the passengers or where they boarded the bus in the initial investigation. An inquest was held in Hampshire County Court House, Romney, at 6 p. m. by Coroner A. L. Russell and the deaths were termed accidental.

No charges were preferred against the truck driver pending further investigation, Trooper Harbert said, adding witnesses will be questioned again this morning.

hypodermic. The driver was lying crossways in the bus, almost from one side to the other. Another woman was sitting on his head. She was wedged in so that she couldn't move.

"An older man named Mallow from Petersburg was on the other side. He was sitting in a seat. His left leg and pelvis were crushed.

"There was a boy, too, but he was out of the bus when I arrived. He wasn't hurt much."

Dr. Easton recalled that the dead and injured were "sort of piled on each other in the front" of the bus.

He said rescuers had to tear "four seats loose" to remove the passengers.

"After we got one seat loose we got the See woman out. When we took her outside, part of the crowd left. It was a terrible sight."

Dr. Easton said Gilbert Corbin, the truck driver was uninjured, but he said his uncle, William Corbin, died instantly of a skull fracture. The latter was still seated in the truck, with his head resting on the window frame, when Dr. Easton arrived, he said.

The parade was followed by a dance in Firemen's Hall last night where many of the hundreds of persons who lined the streets for the event completed the night of celebration.

A dance and carnival entertainment will complete the homecoming celebration tonight. The Ridgeley Fire Department sponsored the week-long program.

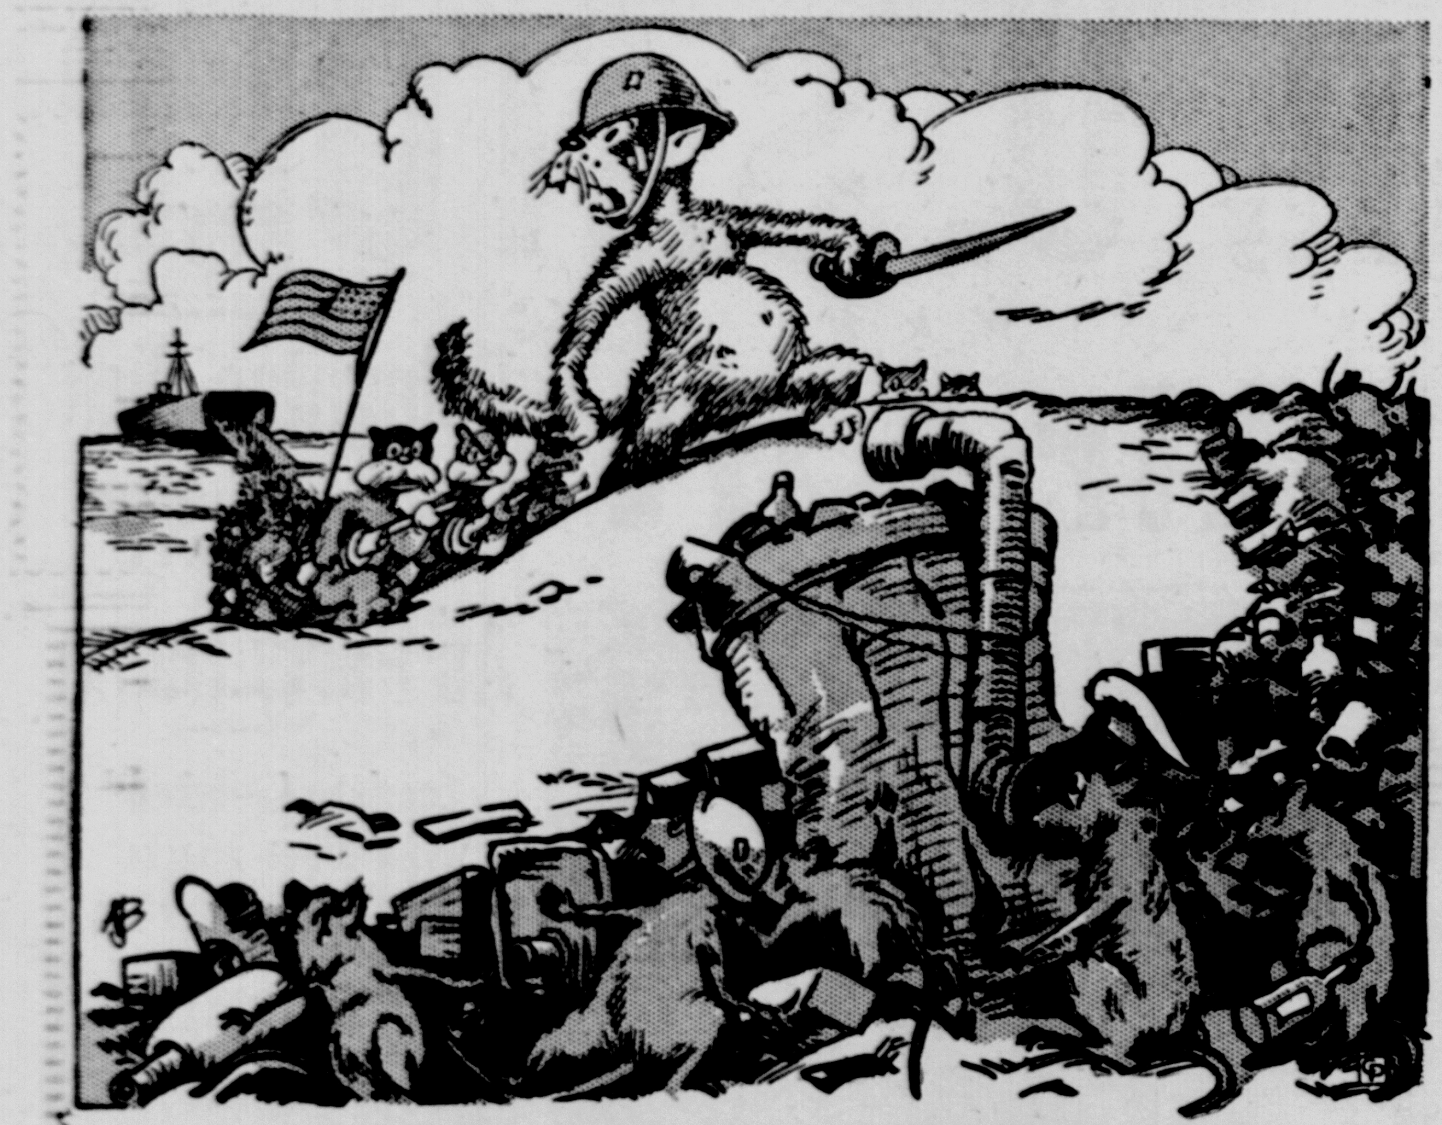
C-DAY NEARS FOR EUROPE'S RATS AS U. S. PLANS TO EXPORT CATS TO WAR ON OLD WORLD'S RODENTS



OPERATION MEOW—Rough time ahead for Europe's rats when CEF (Cat Expeditionary Force) lands there.

By SIMPSON M. RITTER

Central Press Correspondent

NEW YORK—Twice within the memory of most of us the United States has sent men and arms to Europe to preserve democracy. Many more times she has sent her dollar totaling into the tens of billions, mile long trains of food, libraries of books, shiploads of machinery, and sufficient clothing to dress a fourth of that unhappy continent's population.

Now Europe asks us, out of our generosity and abundance, for cats. Europe asks for one million cats to preserve her shadowy harvests, defend American sent grain on her docks and in her mills, and halt the threat of plague.

In a two column news-editorial, evidently based on earlier agricultural reports, the London Daily Mirror asked the United States to send across one million fighting felines to annihilate the rat race rampaging over Europe.

Robert Lothar Kendell, president of the American Feline society, New York City, accepted the challenge though he reduced the expeditionary force to 50,000 in view of the elaborate costs and preparations necessary to send cats Europeward, and worked out a detailed battle plan.

Letters deliniating the plan and the offer of assistance were forwarded at once to Secretary George C. Marshall and to Lord Inverchapel, the British ambassador to the United States.

TO DATE the society, drawing principally from its membership in 39 of the United States, several providences of Canada, and from Puerto Rico, has recruited an initial force of 4,000 felines whom they hope to send on their way as soon as the red tape can be sliced.

Advance stores of special, tested foods will be shipped first. The cats will go by air in flights of 1,666 each. Crate packed in squads of five and with sufficient food for the voyage over and initial deployment, each flight will come to about 13,000 pounds.

At a cost of $1.17 per pound that is more than 15,000 dollars per trip and about $38,000 for the first wave of 4,000 cats. Shipping 50,000 cats, discounting advance food shipments, will cost about $1,150,000.
form of insurance against rodent destruction.

Before acceptance all recruits are checked for health and temperament. Those that pass the rigid physical receive necessary innoculations, a "dog (ugly word) tag" for identification which will be attached to the left ear, and an indoctrination course.

Kendell prefers alley cats. These, he points out, have probably had recent experience in stalking rats and are tougher in constitution. Pedigreed cats are fine but probably lack the stamina and have grown fastidious.

Once the cats reach Europe and have passed through the various quarantines and further physical entrance examinations which vary from country to country they will be released in combat teams of two and four wherever necessary. Principal designated posts at present include docks, grannaries and mills.

These cats will be the property of the government where released and in no sense personal pets of any individual. The respective governments will be held strictly accountable by Kendell's group and other aelourophiles for the proper keeping and feeding of the animal soldiers.

IF IT WERE NOT for America's 21,000,000 cats, of whom we could easily spare a million for Europe if the shipping costs were less, says Kendell, our own farmers and food storage centers might be as badly off as their European equivalents.

According to food statisticians each rat costs the American farmer an annual loss of four dollars in destroyed or damaged crops that can never be sent to market. Squirrels and chipmunks and other animals of the rodent type with whom cats naturally feud are responsible for further but less extensive losses.

However, these fighting cats, whether in Europe or in this country, must be fed by man, caution the cat people. A hungry cat, says Kendell, quickly loses interest in sport and stalking rats is a sport with cats which they practice only when otherwise content.

A cat's primary need is food and this it will not obtain, contrary to popular conception, by killing rats. Cats eat mice but never rats. The tails and hides of the larger rodents are poisonous.

A domesticated cat cannot be expected to live solely on mouse meat. Cats want milk, fish, fowl and meats similar to those eaten by man. In their natural wild stage cats subsist principally on birds, insects and fish, and to a lesser extent on mice.

Cats go after not only rats but other animals and insects and birds that ravage farm crops. Cats are multipurpose. To do half as well a dozen different types of traps and a dozen different types of chemicals would be required, assert the aelourphiles. That's why Europe, whose cat population has been sadly depleted by the war, needs American volunteers.

In addition to poor indigenous crops in Europe today due to loss of farm animals, machinery and exhausted and poisoned soil, and inferior seeds, fully 50 per cent of most American food shipments to the "Marshall countries" are damaged by rodents.

THE RATS begin their war on foodstuffs aboard the ships, continue at the docks in Europe, attack again in warehouses and mills, and make a final assault at the distribution centers and in homes.

Officials of the United Nations' Food and Agricultural organization, popularly known as the FAO, pointed out that cats are more urgently needed in those "Marshall countries" whose agricultural methods are primitive. These countries lack mechanical and chemical means of protecting the soil, of sewing seed and of harvesting.

Europeans also know from centuries of unhappy experience that whenever and wherever the rodent population grows plague is not far behind. Rodents are notorious carriers of the more deadly types of bacteria. Egypt's recent cholera epidemic was very likely a result of inadequate rodent control.

Aelourophiles cite impressive examples of communities as far afield as India, China and Japan which are never troubled by diseases because they are rat free, thanks to sufficient cats.

Some communities, such as Hong Kong, make it compulsory upon householders to maintain cats in numbers proportionate to the size of the house and the number of inhabitants.

The United States Post Office keeps cats on its payroll as a form of insurance against rodent destruction.

Teamsters Will Act Sunday On Winchester Offer

Winchester, Va., members of Local 653, Teamsters and Chauffeurs Union, will meet in the union hall there Sunday at 11:30 a. m. to act on a wage and contract offer of over-the-road and city trucking firms of Winchester, C. E. Stutzman, business manager, said.

He said the firms, including the Novick, Super Service, Mason and Dixon, Elliott and Allegany freight lines and Smith Transfer Company there have offered a 7½ cent increase for city drivers, 10 cents for garage mechanics and helpers and an .0015 a mile increase for over-the-road drivers.

The company offer was made at a conference held there Thursday Stutzman said part of the offer may be approved tomorrow.

The contracts affecting some 400 men do not expire until August 31. The union said the companies want to put the increases into effect upon signing of the agreement with the stipulation that other items in the contract remain the same.

Contracts for such drivers in the Cumberland area were settled in a two-year contract last year. That contract provided for an increase of three cents an hour for city drivers effective September 1, 1948, with comparable increases for over-the-road men.

Stutzman, C. E. Bramble, president, and W. M. Swiggett, Winchester business manager, headed the union committee which met with operators Thursday.

All enlisted for three years and were sent to Great Lakes Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill.

the seats which were jammed on top of the three trapped passengers, rescuers explained.

The two-vehicle collision partially blocked the highway but traffic was halted only long enough for the victims to be placed in ambulances, police asserted.

The rear of the bus was resting about three feet off the east berm of the road against the guardrail and the truck was across the left side of the hard surface highway when police arrived, according to Trooper Harbert. He added that the rear wheels of the truck were about a foot in the air with the front penetrating the bus.

Authorities said they were unable to determine the destinations of the passengers or where they boarded the bus in the initial investigation. An inquest was held in Hampshire County Court House, Romney, at 6 p. m. by Coroner A. L. Russell and the deaths were termed accidental.

No charges were preferred against the truck driver pending further investigation, Trooper Harbert said, adding witnesses will be questioned again this morning.

hypodermic. The driver was lying crossways in the bus, almost from one side to the other. Another woman was sitting on his head. She was wedged in so that she couldn't move.

"An older man named Mallow from Petersburg was on the other side. He was sitting in a seat. His left leg and pelvis were crushed.

"There was a boy, too, but he was out of the bus when I arrived. He wasn't hurt much."

Dr. Easton recalled that the dead and injured were "sort of piled on each other in the front" of the bus.

He said rescuers had to tear "four seats loose" to remove the passengers.

"After we got one seat loose we got the See woman out. When we took her outside, part of the crowd left. It was a terrible sight."

Dr. Easton said Gilbert Corbin, the truck driver was uninjured, but he said his uncle, William Corbin, died instantly of a skull fracture. The latter was still seated in the truck, with his head resting on the window frame, when Dr. Easton arrived, he said.

Yugo-Cominform Harmony Urged

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, July 23 (AP) — The Yugoslav Communist Party Congress heard an appeal for the party and the Cominform to settle their differences and unite against "Anglo-American warmongers."

Bozidar Maslaric, president of the All-Slav Committee, told the delegates the Yugoslav-Cominform split was "working to the benefit of the enemy bloc."

"The question is how to get out of this situation," Maslaric continued. "All progressive and democratic nations (the Communist bloc) are united against imperialists and warmongers on the principle of national equality and not on the principle of mixing in internal affairs of others. x x x The democratic people demand that their leaders arrive at agreement and unite in the struggle against the Anglo-American warmongers."

As have all other speakers at the congress, now in its third day, Maslaric gave forceful support to Premier Marshal Tito who he declared is pursuing the true Marxist-Leninist way. The Yugoslav party, he said, is not trying to establish a so-called "Titoism" but on the contrary has been supporting Premier Stalin, of Russian, and the Russian Bolshevik Party more loyally than any other of the "peoples democracies" in the Communist bloc.

beside his young wife in their car. The husband, en route home with his wife after an evening at an ice cream parlor, was killed when he objected to the men taking his driver's license.

Two Officers Wounded

The two-week manhunt ended as the driveaway, with West at the wheel and Daniels in one of the four cars on the trailer, pulled up to the road block. Sheriff Shaffer, Conn "covering" him with a submachine gun, asked West if he had any passengers.

West said he didn't have, but the sheriff told him to wait anyway. As Shaffer discovered Daniels crouched in the car, West came out of the cab shooting. He wounded Sgt. Conn and County Game Protector Frank A. Friemoth, 55, before Conn's bullet felled him.

Daniels, although he had three weapons beside him, put up his hands and crawled out. He said to the sheriff:

"Don't shoot! You've got me. Tell me what to do."

West died en route to Van Wert County Hospital. Daniels was put in the county jail.

The sheriff quoted Daniels as saying West was the triggerman in all the shootings. But in a later interview with Prosecutor Theodore Lutz, Daniels admitted killing the Niebels.

About the Niebel shooting, Daniels said:

"Johnny and I planned this for three or four months. We wanted to beat hell out of him (Niebel) and if they'd given me a little more time, we'd have wiped 'em all out, those ——— at the reformatory."

Forced To Undress In Car

"We really went to the reformatory the other day to get Red Phillips (a guard), but we couldn't find him.

"We killed the Niebels about 1:30 a. m. I went to the door, which Niebel answered, and told him our car was broken down and asked if I could use the phone. He let me in, and I covered him with my gun. Then Johnny came in and covered him while I went upstairs and got the women.

"They were all fully clothed, and we drove right through Mansfield with them. We made them undress in the car, and threw their clothes out along the road. (Other statements attributed to Daniels were that the clothes were removed in the cornfield, and finally deposited by the killers in an Akron park).

"We finally got to the cornfield, and told them to walk in. There was no criminal attack on the women, and we didn't slug anybody. He (Niebel) told the others not to offer any resistance, and they didn't.

"I told 'em to line up. Then I shot him, then the girl and then the woman."

Navy July Quota Filled; Recruiting Suspended

WASHINGTON, July 23 (AP) — The Navy said today it has enough volunteers to fill July's quota and suspended recruiting for the rest of the month.

Yesterday the Marine Corps reported heavy enlistments and officials said after a conference that if the present rate of volunteering continues, that branch of service will not have to draft any men in 1949.

The Marine Corps accepts 4,000 volunteers each month. The total to date for July is almost 4,000, and officials said that by the end of the month the Marines probably will exceed the quota for July.

Both the Navy and the Marines said they have a waiting list for future months.

lawyer and publisher, a negro with 30 years of allegiance to the GOP, cried out to Americans everywhere to accept the challenge of new political frontiers.

"The new trails await us," he said, "the frontier awaits us. The rebirth of this nation awaits our coming. And we are on the march."

With equal impartiality and force, Howard waded into what he called: "The party of the mechanical smile or the Missouri Compromise," a Congress whose "order of the day was kill, kill, kill" for civil rights laws, and a President—Mr. Truman—who has "been long on say-so and short on do-so."

Wallace himself listened in and looked on with a television set in his headquarters at the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel.

A few hours before, he had bustled into town to say he is no Communist but that he won't snub Communist support based on "an interest in peace." He predicted a "surprising" vote for his party but cautiously held back any forecast that he will move into the White House next January.

Benson Opening Speaker

Tonight's convention program was mostly one of song and oratory and routine business.

The opening speaker was Elmer A. Benson, former Governor of Minnesota, in his role of chairman of the National Wallace for President Club.

He held out the hand of welcome to the "plain people" and also told the delegates in his prepared speech:

"You can have peace or war, but it will have to be one or the other.

"These are the alternatives which this new party will place before the American people.

"Without this party there are no alternatives. There are only military budgets, young men in uniform, and war."

The convention had one thing in common with the Republican and Democratic conventions held in this same vast hall: It was hot. The delegates, spectators, and reporters perspired in their shirtsleeves or thin dresses.

It was unofficially reported that Winchell will get $1,350,000 for the two-year period. The cost of air time over stations on the American Broadcasting Company network will be additional.

Three B-29s Reach Azores On World Scouting Flight

WASHINGTON, July 23. (AP)—Three American Superfortresses making a leisurely two-week hop around the world landed in the Azores today.

The B-29s are on a scouting flight to see whether big bombers could use fields and facilities in distant parts of the globe if they had to in an emergency.

The bombers took off from their base at Davis-Monthan Field, Tucson, Ariz., yesterday, stopping at MacDill, Florida, for fuel. After the Azores, their next stop is Whellus Field, near Tripoli, Libya, Saturday morning.

Before returning to their Arizona base August 5 they plan to touch at Ceylon, the Philippines, Japan and Alaska.

Cut In Wheat Acreage Urged By Government

WASHINGTON, July 23 (AP)—The Agriculture Department recommended today that farmers plant 71,500,00 acres in wheat for 1949—about eight per cent less than this year's acreage.

With an average yield of 15 bushels an acre, the 1938-47 average, this would mean 1949 production of nearly 1,100,000,000 bushels. The July 1 estimate of 1948 wheat production was 1,241,751,000 bushels.

The department estimated that a harvest of 1,100,000,000 bushels next year would be sufficient for domestic export and carry-over needs.

Setting another farm goal, the department recommended a beef cattle breeding herd of 15,500,000 cows next January 1. This would represent a decrease of about 500,000 head below the total last January 1.

Lightning Bolt Strikes Log Canoe, Killing Youth

CAMBRIDGE, Md., July 23. (AP)—A heavy electrical storm hit Cambridge today and struck tragedy into the town's weekend sailing regatta when a youngster was killed by lightning.

James Richardson, 13, of nearby Lloyds, was killed when a bolt hit a log canoe anchored off the Cambridge Yacht Club.

Witnesses said the lightning went down the mainmast.

Dr. James Thompson, the owner, Carlton Slagle and young Richardson sailed the "Flying Cloud" into the harbor only a short time earlier and came ashore to post her as an entry in the sailing races.

When the squall came up they returned to the boat to strike the sail that had been left up. The rain hit and Jimmy was crouching in the boat near the mast to keep as dry as possible. Dr. Thompson and Slagle escaped injury.

Yugo-Cominform Harmony Urged

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, July 23 (AP) — The Yugoslav Communist Party Congress heard an appeal for the party and the Cominform to settle their differences and unite against "Anglo-American warmongers."

Bozidar Maslaric, president of the All-Slav Committee, told the delegates the Yugoslav-Cominform split was "working to the benefit of the enemy bloc."

"The question is how to get out of this situation," Maslaric continued. "All progressive and democratic nations (the Communist bloc) are united against imperialists and warmongers on the principle of national equality and not on the principle of mixing in internal affairs of others. x x x The democratic people demand that their leaders arrive at agreement and unite in the struggle against the Anglo-American warmongers."

As have all other speakers at the congress, now in its third day, Maslaric gave forceful support to Premier Marshal Tito who he declared is pursuing the true Marxist-Leninist way. The Yugoslav party, he said, is not trying to establish a so-called "Titoism" but on the contrary has been supporting Premier Stalin, of Russian, and the Russian Bolshevik Party more loyally than any other of the "peoples democracies" in the Communist bloc.

beside his young wife in their car. The husband, en route home with his wife after an evening at an ice cream parlor, was killed when he objected to the men taking his driver's license.

Two Officers Wounded

The two-week manhunt ended as the driveaway, with West at the wheel and Daniels in one of the four cars on the trailer, pulled up to the road block. Sheriff Shaffer, Conn "covering" him with a submachine gun, asked West if he had any passengers.

West said he didn't have, but the sheriff told him to wait anyway. As Shaffer discovered Daniels crouched in the car, West came out of the cab shooting. He wounded Sgt. Conn and County Game Protector Frank A. Friemoth, 55, before Conn's bullet felled him.

Daniels, although he had three weapons beside him, put up his hands and crawled out. He said to the sheriff:

"Don't shoot! You've got me. Tell me what to do."

West died en route to Van Wert County Hospital. Daniels was put in the county jail.

The sheriff quoted Daniels as saying West was the triggerman in all the shootings. But in a later interview with Prosecutor Theodore Lutz, Daniels admitted killing the Niebels.

About the Niebel shooting, Daniels said:

"Johnny and I planned this for three or four months. We wanted to beat hell out of him (Niebel) and if they'd given me a little more time, we'd have wiped 'em all out, those ——— at the reformatory."

Forced To Undress In Car

"We really went to the reformatory the other day to get Red Phillips (a guard), but we couldn't find him.

"We killed the Niebels about 1:30 a. m. I went to the door, which Niebel answered, and told him our car was broken down and asked if I could use the phone. He let me in, and I covered him with my gun. Then Johnny came in and covered him while I went upstairs and got the women.

"They were all fully clothed, and we drove right through Mansfield with them. We made them undress in the car, and threw their clothes out along the road. (Other statements attributed to Daniels were that the clothes were removed in the cornfield, and finally deposited by the killers in an Akron park).

"We finally got to the cornfield, and told them to walk in. There was no criminal attack on the women, and we didn't slug anybody. He (Niebel) told the others not to offer any resistance, and they didn't.

"I told 'em to line up. Then I shot him, then the girl and then the woman."

Navy July Quota Filled; Recruiting Suspended

WASHINGTON, July 23 (AP) — The Navy said today it has enough volunteers to fill July's quota and suspended recruiting for the rest of the month.

Yesterday the Marine Corps reported heavy enlistments and officials said after a conference that if the present rate of volunteering continues, that branch of service will not have to draft any men in 1949.

The Marine Corps accepts 4,000 volunteers each month. The total to date for July is almost 4,000, and officials said that by the end of the month the Marines probably will exceed the quota for July.

Both the Navy and the Marines said they have a waiting list for future months.

lawyer and publisher, a negro with 30 years of allegiance to the GOP, cried out to Americans everywhere to accept the challenge of new political frontiers.

"The new trails await us," he said, "the frontier awaits us. The rebirth of this nation awaits our coming. And we are on the march."

With equal impartiality and force, Howard waded into what he called: "The party of the mechanical smile or the Missouri Compromise," a Congress whose "order of the day was kill, kill, kill" for civil rights laws, and a President—Mr. Truman —who has "been long on say-so and short on do-so."

Wallace himself listened in and looked on with a television set in his headquarters at the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel.

A few hours before, he had bustled into town to say he is no Communist but that he won't snub Communist support based on "an interest in peace." He predicted a "surprising" vote for his party but cautiously held back any forecast that he will move into the White House next January.

Benson Opening Speaker

Tonight's convention program was mostly one of song and oratory and routine business.

The opening speaker was Elmer A. Benson, former Governor of Minnesota, in his role of chairman of the National Wallace for President Club.

He held out the hand of welcome to the "plain people" and also told the delegates in his prepared speech:

"You can have peace or war, but it will have to be one or the other.

"These are the alternatives which this new party will place before the American people.

"Without this party there are no alternatives. There are only military budgets, young men in uniform, and war."

The convention had one thing in common with the Republican and Democratic conventions held in this same vast hall: It was hot. The delegates, spectators, and reporters perspired in their shirtsleeves or thin dresses.

NEW YORK, July 23. (AP)—A contract under which the Kaiser-Frazer Sales Corporation will sponsor Walter Winchell's radio news commentaries for two years starting next January 2 was signed today.

It was unofficially reported that Winchell will get $1,350,000 for the two-year period. The cost of air time over stations on the American Broadcasting Company network will be additional.

Winchell's present sponsor the Jergens Company, recently decided not to renew his contract.

Three B-29s Reach Azores On World Scouting Flight

WASHINGTON, July 23. (AP)—Three American Superfortresses making a leisurely two-week hop around the world landed in the Azores today.

The B-29s are on a scouting flight to see whether big bombers could use fields and facilities in distant parts of the globe if they had to in an emergency.

The bombers took off from their base at Davis-Monthan Field, Tucson, Ariz., yesterday, stopping at MacDill, Florida, for fuel. After the Azores, their next stop is Whellus Field, near Tripoli, Libya, Saturday morning.

Before returning to their Arizona base August 5 they plan to touch at Ceylon, the Philippines, Japan and Alaska.

Cut In Wheat Acreage Urged By Government

WASHINGTON, July 23 (AP)—The Agriculture Department recommended today that farmers plant 71,500,00 acres in wheat for 1949—about eight per cent less than this year's acreage.

With an average yield of 15 bushels an acre, the 1938-47 average, this would mean 1949 production of nearly 1,100,000,000 bushels. The July 1 estimate of 1948 wheat production was 1,241,751,000 bushels.

The department estimated that a harvest of 1,100,000,000 bushels next year would be sufficient for domestic export and carry-over needs.

Setting another farm goal, the department recommended a beef cattle breeding herd of 15,500,000 cows next January 1. This would represent a decrease of about 500,000 head below the total last January 1.

Lightning Bolt Strikes Log Canoe, Killing Youth

CAMBRIDGE, Md., July 23. (AP)—A heavy electrical storm hit Cambridge today and struck tragedy into the town's weekend sailing regatta when a youngster was killed by lightning.

James Richardson, 13, of nearby Lloyds, was killed when a bolt hit a log canoe anchored off the Cambridge Yacht Club.

Witnesses said the lightning went down the mainmast.

Dr. James Thompson, the owner, Carlton Slagle and young Richardson sailed the "Flying Cloud" into the harbor only a short time earlier and came ashore to post her as an entry in the sailing races.

When the squall came up they returned to the boat to strike the sail that had been left up. The rain hit and Jimmy was crouching in the boat near the mast to keep as dry as possible. Dr. Thompson and Slagle escaped injury.

Commissioners Inspect Allegany County Home

The Board of Allegany County Commissioners has made its inspection, publicized beforehand, of the Allegany County Home and Infirmary. The Commissioners, it should be pointed out, have made it a policy to visit the institution at regular intervals but this one was prompted by the unfavorable publicity to the effect that bug-infested food had been prepared and served inmates at the Home. The information was given them by two discharged employees.

The Commissioners, according to Commissioner Wilkinson, president of the board, spent several hours going through the institution and in examining bins in which food is stored. He said they found everything in first-class condition—and bugless, we must assume. Commissioner Wilkinson announced that the inspection was "gratifying," and that he was "very much satisfied and will consider the question closed."

It was no surprise, however, to learn that he (the other Commissioners have made no public statement) found everything just as it was to be expected he would—in ship shape and apple pie order. It was hardly to be expected that had the conditions complained of ever existed they would be permitted to remain after notice had been heralded that an inspection would be made on a given day.

But perhaps conditions at the Home have been wrongly represented and are, and have been, as wholesome as now claimed. Certainly, we would like to feel so, but the clean bill of health would have been more convincing to every citizen in the county had the matter been handled by entirely different methods to, in the end, remove all doubt that it might have been politically-inspired.

The charges have not been dissipated to the satisfaction of all. To conclude that the report given by Commissioner Wilkinson discredits those who brought to him the complaint about infested food may be an unfair deduction because it seems that the charges should have been sifted thoroughly by politically disinterested persons. Until that is done an open mind must be kept and the matter will not, as Commissioner Wilkinson says, be "considered closed."

With the nation's largest corn crop in prospect, the American people may renew a speaking acquaintance with a pork chop.

Two Courses Lie Open To World Democracies

Someone has to knuckle under in Berlin. It is a question of the major principle in the world today. The gangster cannot tolerate tranquility or good will. The man of freedom cannot reap the fruits of his good works in a world smothered morally and politically in apprehension and confusion. The Marshall Plan lies fettered in a Europe unable to plan in composure or hope with confidence.

Two courses lie open to the democracies. They can follow their initial notes to Moscow with stiffer documents carrying the threat of economic sanctions if the Russians again refuse to raise the siege of Berlin. Such reprisals, at best timesavers for additional diplomatic maneuvering, might take the form of trade embargoes, the freezing of Russian shipping in Allied ports, the denial of the Suez Canal, or appeal to the United Nations. The alternative is force—an armored convoy or train attempting to break the blockade. Russian resistance would constitute an act of war.

The first measure is a bow to expediency. It is difficult to imagine Moscow replying except in kind. The second would set the stage for a sharp and emphatic showdown. That it receives consideration at all in Washington and London (the French, standing always athwart any advance from the east, are naturally more reticent) radically alters speculation upon the strategic situation in Europe.

Russia's airforce, generally estimated at about the strength of our own, is based on some 60 airfields, most of them second class, none of them equipped for night operations, and many of them without all-weather runways and hardstands. Such a force, though numerically equal to the one in the United States and Britain can put into the field over Europe today, can hardly be its operational equal and indeed would be fortunate in mounting a third of the daily sorties an Allied force could manage from the vast network of Britain's marvelous airfield complex. The Russian force is additionally weak in ground support and attack aircraft. On the sea our air supremacy is unchallenged and capable of carrying destruction deep into industrial Russia.

In spite of the lumbering power Russia can unquestionably muster on the ground, it strikes us, then, that Allied resolve in the Berlin crisis rearranges the light in which the success of a Russian attack toward the channel must be viewed. Surely the democracies are not prepared in the disagreement over Berlin to abandon the continent of Europe to Russian occupation. Recent events abroad and in Washington would seem to indicate that if war comes now Europe has by no means been discounted as a loss.

The Allies appear to be calling the Russian bluff. If it's no bluff, it would at least appear that the Allied cards are a good deal stronger than many had supposed.

Feeder cattle have sold for $33 in some markets. What they will bring when finished is left to the imagination.

It Is To Be Hoped That Draft Accomplishes Aim

Although it was expected, the announcement of actual draft registration to begin August 30 is bound to cause a sinking feeling in the hearts of many Americans. It emphasizes anew the gravity of the world situation, a gravity which has increased since Congress passed the draft law back in June.

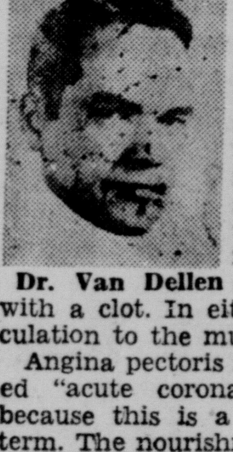
The draft unpleasant as it is, is a necessity. This nation had hoped, less than three years ago, that the surrender of Japan would mark the beginning of a long peace. That hope was not fulfilled. It can yet become true, but until it appears certain that war will not return in the near future, the United States must be prepared. The first peacetime draft was planned as a move to prevent war by showing the nation's strength. Let us pray that it accomplishes that purpose.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made under proper limitations, when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

Coronary Artery Disturbances



Dr. Van Dellen

What is the difference between coronary occlusion and angina pectoris? Both adnormalities involve the coronary arteries of the heart. These passageways supply the cardiac muscle with nutriment and are subject to the same disorders as blood vessels elsewhere in the body. Arteriosclerosis, which is prone to produce trouble after the age of 50, is the underlying cause in both disturbances. In angina, the vessel is narrowed and in occlusion, plugged with a clot. In either case the circulation to the muscle is reduced.

Angina pectoris is frequently called "acute coronary insufficiency" because this is a more descriptive term. The nourishment to the heart muscle is inadequate and the symptoms which follow are a rebellion against the deficiency. But the narrowed vessels are still capable of carrying some blood. Consequently, pain is not always present, appearing only when the individual overexerts, becomes excited, eats or smokes too much, or is exposed to cold.

The reason is simple: during such periods, the cardiac structure must pump harder and in so doing, requires more fuel. But since the caliber of the coronary artery is decreased, the structure cannot deliver the goods. After relaxing for a few minutes or taking a nitroglycerin tablet, relief is generally prompt. The character of the discomfort is also typical; it presents a sense of constriction, suffocation, or pressure beneath the breastbone and pain often radiates down the left arm.

Coronary thrombosis is a much more shocking condition. Exercise or excitement is not needed as it is just as likely to take place while resting in bed as when climbing stairs. As a rule, the attack comes on suddenly. The distress is similar to that of angina pectoris but is more severe and prolonged and is not eased by nitroglycerin. Nausea and vomiting are common accompaniments explaining why in the past it was often referred to as "acute indigestion." In addition, the victim breaks out into a cold sweat and the skin becomes ashen, the pulse quickens, and the blood pressure falls. The patient is often terrified by a feeling of impending death. An episode such as this is a medical emergency demanding absolute bed rest, oxygen, pain-relieving drugs, and substances that help open the blood pathways.

With coronary occlusion, the obstruction completely deprives a small part of the heart muscle of blood. As a result, deterioration of this area, and ultimately scar tissue will occur. Several weeks pass while these changes are going on and bed rest must be continued over this length of time. This is hard to do because after the first few days, the individual often feels fine and cannot understand why he is kept in bed.

Thus angina pectoris and coronary thrombosis differ mainly in degree. The first may precede the second for many years but if the patient appreciates this fact and heeds early symptoms, he need not anticipate a coronary occlusion.

Russia Prepares For Troop Concentrations Opposite U. S. Zone Of Germany; Fifteen New Russian Air Bases In Germany; Balloons Floatable To Russians

Says DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON, July 23—Uncensored dispatches from behind the Iron Curtain have increased the fear that Russia may be ready for war now.

Hitherto diplomats felt certain that the Soviet did not want war for at least two or three years—until she could develop the A-bomb. But here are some developments which have taken place behind the Iron Curtain.

1. The Communist-controlled Czech Government has just received orders from Moscow to empty a large number of army barracks in Western Czechoslovakia in preparation for the early arrival of large Russian troop concentrations. It's important to remember that Czechosolvakia is adjacent to the American zone of Germany. If this report is accurate, the Red Army is moving up units to face U. S. troops in the American zone.

2. The Russians have ordered thousands of bilingual signposts erected all the way from the Soviet border to the German border for the use of Red Army divisions. Word that these signposts are being set up has leaked out through the Czech underground. They all point in the direction of Berlin and Paris.

3. Russia has just occupied 15 new air bases in Eastern Germany, west of the Soviet border. Some of these air bases are staffed with the Russian version of the B-29, copied from B-29s which were forced down in Siberia during the war.

4. Russia has quietly summoned home for consultation some of the most trusted diplomats in its foreign service, leaving relative second-stringers in charge of its embassies.

5 Word has gone out from Moscow for the immediate purge of all dissident and weak elements in the Communist Party throughout Ehrope. This means any Communist who doesn't toe the Moscow line unflinchingly is to be ousted. This order reportedly has the blessing of Premier Stalin. It is interpreted to mean that the Kremlin is gearing for a final showdown.

Propaganda Balloons to Russia

Secretary for Air Stuart Symington and Air Force officers are giving serious consideration to the idea of having B-29s drop propaganda messages to the Russian people at the same time that the B-29s reinforce our position in Berlin.

Purpose of the idea would be to remind the Russian people that the American and Russian armies battled as comrades to win the recent war, that our right to remain in Berlin was part of that victory, that the American people do not want war with their former comrades-in-arms and that the propaganda fed them by the Moscow radio that we are panting for war is so much poppycock.

Back of the idea also would be the fact that the 14 men in the Politburo alone can put Russia into a war—unless there is a strong negative urge among the Russian people not to go to war. And the only way to give them that negative urge is to go over the Kremlin's head to make them understand that the American people do not want war either.

Government Reaction

Here is the first-blush reaction of Government officials to the idea of getting these peace appeals via weather balloons to the Russian people:

Weather Bureau—It's perfectly feasible to float small weather balloons from Western Europe to Russia. About seven out of ten would get there. By gauging the amount of gas in the balloons it would be possible to fix the approximate point for their landing inside Russia. (The Japs measured the distance acros sthe Pacific during the war to land balloons in the Pacific Northwest.) Best launching place would be Germany or Northern France. They would drift at a speed of from 25 to 50 miles an hour once they reached the upper wind currents.

Air Forces—Unofficially, think the idea is good. However, past experience shows that balloons released from planes in flight crash against the fuselage and break. Therefore, it's proposed that the balloons be released from the ground. (Weather Bureau says this is feasible).

State Department—Unofficially and very cautiously, thinks idea might be alright.

War Assets Administration—Had large supply of balloons on hand but they're now sold out. Army Signal Corps and Weather Bureau have a certain number which could be borrowed and replaced later.

If it is important to get friendship messages from the American people to the Russian people, then ways and means can be found for doing it. Various patriotic Americans have volunteered to print the messages free, donate candy, wrist watches, etc., to be sent with the messages. The Government has plenty of resourcefulness to put across this propaganda—if it wants to.

In wartime we make any sacrifice—blood and treasure—to end a war which has already started. But in peacetime we count the pennies when it comes to preventing a war before it gets started.

These Days

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

Know-How

IT does one good to get away from the great men who have been bawling at us for weeks now and to talk about the simple folks who do the work of this country.

Up here in Sandisfield, in Massachusetts, we have been a long time getting electric power. In spite of all the noise that politicians make about rural electrification, the farmers in these mountains are just getting electricity in the year 1948 and they are very happy to have it, better late than never. But that is not what I want to write about today. It is rather about a foreman, Harry Shutts, who was out on these roads supervising a tough job of digging in this rocky soil, of finding water in every hole, of using inexperienced labor, of getting results such as foremen used to get in the old days before featherbedding, before men were taught to work as little as they could get away with, and often less than that.

I have those, too, up in these parts. I watch their slow motion, their saving of effort, their time-watching at 3:30 to see when their watches will show 4. I have seen them leave work unfinished so that it had to be started all over again the next day.

I have seen contractors lose money on jobs because their help did slipshod work that had to be taken down and done again after inspection.. I have even seen damage done by careless, ridiculously careless work. And I have listened by the hour to the union rules.

But not the gang that Harry Shutts supervised. They earned their pay and he kept them at work, not by bossing, not by shouting at them, but by his own example and energy. He was like a hen with her chickens, moving here and there, watching that nobdy got into trouble, guarding against mistakes and accidents. And the most amusing part of it was that, although no longer a youngster, he showed his crew, mostly of war veterans, how to work up in the crown of a maple, how to climb a pole and all that sort of thing.

Apparently he never asked anyone to do anything which he could not or would not do.

It was an impressive picture, lasting about a week near this house, and I suppose all the time in other parts. It was a picture of the kind of hard physical work and straight thinking and decent human relations which built this country before the days when a handout became as respectable as a dollar earned.

It was an example of what created the power of America, the tremendous strength of our country which came out of the muscles and sinews and sweat of our people.

It was exciting to see these men put in a high line of power and then to listen to the politicians talk about all the rural electrification they gave us over 16 years and then watch this efficient crew actually put the poles in the ground, string the wire and tap on the juice.

In the fact of the facts, the politicians' talk is just so much static. And nobody needs to be grateful ever to a politician, who is spending the taxpayer's money.

And that is something they still have to learn. The people know. The people know by daily experience. They shop. They know that meat is not only dear; it is not plentiful. They wonder where it all goes.

They wonder whether Communism in Europe can really be defeated by rationing the American people by keeping prices high and exporting excessively.

The farmers know. They know that government buyers keep farm prices high. The farmer is no dope. He knows that he gets more for his product and pays more for what he buys.

Sure, his income is up, but so is his outgo, and so do his taxes remain high. He is beginning to calculate, as many of us have already done, that a 50-cent dollar is not a hundred-cent dollar.

Let the politicians talk—but the people know.

Inflationary Period Direct Result Of Government Action

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, July 23 — The "third round" of inflation is here. After the labor-union leaders insisted on a third round of wage increases, business managements naturally began increasing their prices to offset the increased expense.

The present inflation—or "boom" as some people euphemistically describe it—must inevitably lead to some form of government controls. The controls will never come under a Democratic administration because President Truman is too anxious to get the labor vote and so will not favor wage controls.

The Republican administration next January will find itself compelled to apply controls—if only for the purpose of keeping the spiral from going higher.

The present inflationary trend is the direct result of government action—some of it unavoidable and some of it avoidable. With the government financing the purchases of goods in a $7,000,000,000 international aid program, it was inevitable that scarcities of goods would be intensified and prices would be bid up.

Likewise, with a $13,000,000,000 armament program, the demand for materials and manpower has created shortages that also send prices upward.

The federal government is spending in the neighborhood of $40,000,000,000 a year which means a tremendous demand for goods and services. The situation in Europe has brought on the armament spending and the international aid program. Nobody in either political party here can be blamed for either problem.

Truman Aides Misleading

America has the biggest crops in history, but food is still high in cost because the demand is unprecedented. The Truman Administration spokesmen have misled the public by trying to connect the prices charged in steel, for instance, with the cost of living. There is no connection between the making of industrial prices and the making of food prices. There is, however, a direct connection between increased wages and increased purchasing power and the demand for more and more farm products.

The government, moreover, is pledged to support farm product prices so there is little likelihood that these will reach a natural level even when supply does start balancing demand.

As long as the President claims credit politically for the high farm income and for the high wages and attempts to derive benefit at the polls from it, there is little chance to do anything about inflation. The message to be delivered next week by the President will achieve little attention in a legislative way for the reason that it will be regarded as palpably political. Whatever chance there was for an objective handling of the economic situation was forfeited by the President's blunder in using the stage of a political convention as the place to announce a call for an extra session. The Republicans will play politics, too, this summer and the inflation will continue at least until the legislative and executive branches of the government are in the hands of the same political party, which may be confidently expected for next January.

The Republican Party then will be divided on the issue of controls. The advocates of "let nature take its course" will fight hard against any more controls but the same school of thought is likewise credited sometimes with the harsh comment that a depression might be a good thing.

Dewey May Be Expected To Act

If Governor Dewey is elected, it is not likely that he will allow the inflationary boom to run its course, for the break, when it does come, could be so severe as to make him a one-term President. He must avoid a major depression. This means that, while he may not have in mind any such program today, he will find himself confronted with the necessity of advocating some form of wage and price controls—that is, a holding of the line at levels then existing. If the result could be obtained by voluntary cooperation, it would be even more desirable. But the "voluntary cooperation" urged early this year just before the third round of wage increases and the attempts of some big companies to hold the price line as a means of warding off the wage increases came to naught.

The moment the federal government enlarged its huge spending program, wages rose and prices rose. Somewhere and somehow this trend has to be reversed. Maybe the government may be compelled under a Republican administration to do that which President Truman refuses to do now—namely, to treat wage control and price control on the same basis.

MATTER OF FACT

By JOSEPH And STEWART ALSOP

What Does the Kremlin Want?

WASHINGTON.

WHAT IS THE grand prize for which the Kremlin is willing to bring the world to the very edge of a war which the Kremlin must know it can never win? No one can know for certain the answer to that question. Yet some of the experts are beginning to suspect, on the basis of available evidence, that the Russians now intend actually to incorporate their eastern European empire, including the Soviet zone of Germany, into the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics. For this purpose it is essential that the Western powers evacuate Berlin.

One important item of evidence to support this theory is a recent speech by Otto Grotewohl, Communist leader of the Soviet zone. The speech was delivered to the high chieftains of the Communist S.E.D., and it bears all the earmarks of having been ghostwritten for Grotewohl by his Russian masters. Therefore it is being studied with earnest attention in all the Western capitals.

The speech makes no bones about the desperate economic crisis into which the Russian policy of plunder has plunged the Soviet zone of Germany. Indeed, Grotewohl neatly sums up the crisis: "Hunger is the cause of low production, but to remove hunger, industrial production must itself be raised." The Soviet formula for breaking this vicious circle, as announced by Grotewohl, consists in effect of transforming the Soviet zone of Germany into an economic and political replica of the Soviet Union.

Thus "diversionist" and "bourgeois" political elements are to be ruthlessy eiminated. This sounds the death knell for the stooge non-Communist parties in the Soviet zone. Further, the Communist party itself is to be transformed into an "elite' party (kaderpartei) and "unreliable" elements are to be purged. The purge has, according to reliable reports, already started in Saxony. In short, the Soviets have decided to deal with an economic crisis of a sort familiar in the Soviet Union by political measures also familiar in the Soviet Union.

Moreover, Grotewohl repeatedly insisted in this Soviet-sponsored speech that the Soviet zone Communists are to have no more truck with the West. Henceforth the Soviet zone must be exclusively and wholly "oriented toward the Soviet Union." Grotewohl even hinted that the "German unity" theme which has been the chief instrument of Soviet and Communist propaganda in Germany is now to be abandoned. "For us as a party," he announced, "it is at present impossible to rely on any sort of grouping with the West. It is impossible at the present moment even with regard to German unity."

It is believed that this speech, taken together with other developments, may have the most crucial significance. Some of the other developments are: the purges impending or in progress in eastern Europe; the Kremlin's thunders against the "nationalism" of its Communist stooges; the disciplining of the Western Communist parties, and their transformation into "elite" parties, wholly dependable instruments of Soviet foreign policy; the Tito episode, and the seige of Berlin itself.

All this falls into a neat pattern. The pattern in turn implies that the Kremlin may well have conconcluded that the political capture of western Europe is now impossible, and that the Western powers cannot be blackmailed into scrapping their measures for the economic revival of western Germany. Already, to prevent a repetition of the Tito episode, and to counter the magnetism of a reviving West, the process of securing absolute control of the whole "Molotov area" is under way.

Some experts reason that the final objective of this process is to bring the entire Soviet European empire, including the Soviet zone of Germany, into the Soviet Union, thus providing absolute insurance against defection or revolt. This could be done on a "voluntary" basis, with Romania (already under pressure to join the Soviet Union) leading the parade. But it cannot be done while the Western Allies remain in Berlin. That is why, according to this theory, the Soviets are willing to risk war to force a Western evacuation of Berlin.

The theory is neat, but it is wholly speculative. It will soon undergo the test of events. For some observers believe that, although the Russians would dearly love to see the Westerners out of Berlin, their real objective is to force another German conference. At this conference they could be expected to do their utmost to embarrass the West. They could offer apparently important concessions to the Germans—a central government so designed as to be subject to Kremlin control, some reduction in reparations, an offer to withdraw all troops and the formation of a Germany army (officered by the M.V.D.). By offering spurious concessions, while refusing to negotiate on the real problem of Germany, the Soviets might hope to keep western Germany, and indeed all western Europe in a state of turmoil in which recovery would be impossible.

It will soon be known whether this is the real objective of the seige of Berlin. For in their forthcoming note to Moscow, the Allies can be expected to make it entirely clear that they are prepared to negotiate again on Germany, provided the blockade is first lifted. If this note is also rejected, it will be wholly evident that Berlin itself is the minimum Soviet objective. Then this country and the Western World will have need of courage and quiet determination.

Commissioners Inspect Allegany County Home

The Board of Allegany County Commissioners has made its inspection, publicized beforehand, of the Allegany County Home and Infirmary. The Commissioners, it should be pointed out, have made it a policy to visit the institution at regular intervals but this one was prompted by the unfavorable publicity to the effect that bug-infested food had been prepared and served inmates at the Home. The information was given them by two discharged employees.

The Commissioners, according to Commissioner Wilkinson, president of the board, spent several hours going through the institution and in examining bins in which food is stored. He said they found everything in first-class condition—and bugless, we must assume. Commissioner Wilkinson announced that the inspection was "gratifying," and that he was "very much satisfied and will consider the question closed."

It was no surprise, however, to learn that he (the other Commissioners have made no public statement) found everything just as it was to be expected he would—in ship shape and apple pie order. It was hardly to be expected that had the conditions complained of ever existed they would be permitted to remain after notice had been heralded that an inspection would be made on a given day.

But perhaps conditions at the Home have been wrongly represented and are, and have been, as wholesome as now claimed. Certainly, we would like to feel so, but the clean bill of health would have been more convincing to every citizen in the county had the matter been handled by entirely different methods to, in the end, remove all doubt that it might have been politically-inspired.

The charges have not been dissipated to the satisfaction of all. To conclude that the report given by Commissioner Wilkinson discredits those who brought to him the complaint about infested food may be an unfair deduction because it seems that the charges should have been sifted thoroughly by politically disinterested persons. Until that is done an open mind must be kept and the matter will not, as Commissioner Wilkinson says, be "considered closed."

With the nation's largest corn crop in prospect, the American people may renew a speaking acquaintance with a pork chop.

Two Courses Lie Open To World Democracies

Someone has to knuckle under in Berlin. It is a question of the major principle in the world today. The gangster cannot tolerate tranquility or good will. The man of freedom cannot reap the fruits of his good works in a world smothered morally and politically in apprehension and confusion. The Marshall Plan lies fettered in a Europe unable to plan in composure or hope with confidence.

Two courses lie open to the democracies. They can follow their initial notes to Moscow with stiffer documents carrying the threat of economic sanctions if the Russians again refuse to raise the siege of Berlin. Such reprisals, at best timesavers for additional diplomatic maneuvering, might take the form of trade embargoes, the freezing of Russian shipping in Allied ports, the denial of the Suez Canal, or appeal to the United Nations. The alternative is force—an armored convoy or train attempting to break the blockade. Russian resistance would constitute an act of war.

The first measure is a bow to expediency. It is difficult to imagine Moscow replying except in kind. The second would set the stage for a sharp and emphatic showdown. That it receives consideration at all in Washington and London (the French, standing always athwart any advance from the east, are naturally more reticent) radically alters speculation upon the strategic situation in Europe.

Russia's airforce, generally estimated at about the strength of our own, is based on some 60 airfields, most of them second class, none of them equipped for night operations, and many of them without all-weather runways and hardstands. Such a force, though numerically equal to the one in the United States and Britain can put into the field over Europe today, can hardly be its operational equal and indeed would be fortunate in mounting a third of the daily sorties an Allied force could manage from the vast network of Britain's marvelous airfield complex. The Russian force is additionally weak in ground support and attack aircraft. On the sea our air supremacy is unchallenged and capable of carrying destruction deep into industrial Russia.

In spite of the lumbering power Russia can unquestionably muster on the ground, it strikes us, then, that Allied resolve in the Berlin crisis rearranges the light in which the success of a Russian attack toward the channel must be viewed. Surely the democracies are not prepared in the disagreement over Berlin to abandon the continent of Europe to Russian occupation. Recent events abroad and in Washington would seem to indicate that if war comes now Europe has by no means been discounted as a loss.

The Allies appear to be calling the Russian bluff. If it's no bluff, it would at least appear that the Allied cards are a good deal stronger than many had supposed.

Feeder cattle have sold for $33 in some markets. What they will bring when finished is left to the imagination.

It Is To Be Hoped That Draft Accomplishes Aim

Although it was expected, the announcement of actual draft registration to begin August 30 is bound to cause a sinking feeling in the hearts of many Americans. It emphasizes anew the gravity of the world situation, a gravity which has increased since Congress passed the draft law back in June.

The draft unpleasant as it is, is a necessity. This nation had hoped, less than three years ago, that the surrender of Japan would mark the beginning of a long peace. That hope was not fulfilled. It can yet become true, but until it appears certain that war will not return in the near future, the United States must be prepared. The first peacetime draft was planned as a move to prevent war by showing the nation's strength. Let us pray that it accomplishes that purpose.

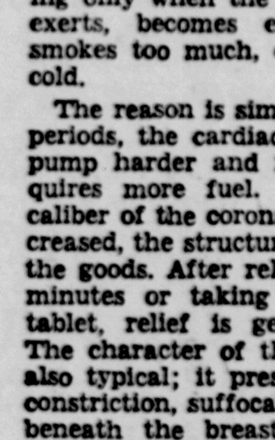
HOW TO KEEP WELL

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made under proper limitations, when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

Coronary Artery Disturbances

What is the difference between coronary occlusion and angina pectoris? Both adnormalities involve the coronary arteries of the heart. These passageways supply the cardiac muscle with nutriment and are subject to the same disorders as blood vessels elsewhere in the body. Arteriosclerosis, which is prone to produce trouble after the age of 50, is the underlying cause in both disturbances. In angina, the vessel is narrowed and in occlusion, plugged with a clot. In either case the circulation to the muscle is reduced.



Dr. Van Dellen

Angina pectoris is frequently called "acute coronary insufficiency" because this is a more descriptive term. The nourishment to the heart muscle is inadequate and the symptoms which follow are a rebellion against the deficiency. But the narrowed vessels are still capable of carrying some blood. Consequently, pain is not always present, appearing only when the individual overexerts, becomes excited, eats or smokes too much, or is exposed to cold.

The reason is simple: during such periods, the cardiac structure must pump harder and in so doing, requires more fuel. But since the caliber of the coronary artery is decreased, the structure cannot deliver the goods. After relaxing for a few minutes or taking a nitroglycerin tablet, relief is generally prompt. The character of the discomfort is also typical; it presents a sense of constriction, suffocation, or pressure beneath the breastbone and pain often radiates down the left arm.

Coronary thrombosis is a much more shocking condition. Exercise or excitement is not needed as it is just as likely to take place while resting in bed as when climbing stairs. As a rule, the attack comes on suddenly. The distress is similar to that of angina pectoris but is more severe and prolonged and is not eased by nitroglycerin. Nausea and vomiting are common accompaniments explaining why in the past it was often referred to as "acute indigestion." In addition, the victim breaks out into a cold sweat and the skin becomes ashen, the pulse quickens, and the blood pressure falls. The patient is often terrified by a feeling of impending death. An episode such as this is a medical emergency demanding absolute bed rest, oxygen, pain-relieving drugs, and substances that help open the blood pathways.

With coronary occlusion, the obstruction completely deprives a small part of the heart muscle of blood. As a result, deterioration of this area, and ultimately scar tissue will occur. Several weeks pass while these changes are going on and bed rest must be continued over this length of time. This is hard to do because after the first few days, the individual often feels fine and cannot understand why he is kept in bed.

Thus angina pectoris and coronary thrombosis differ mainly in degree. The first may precede the second for many years but if the patient appreciates this fact and heeds early symptoms, he need not anticipate a coronary occlusion.

Purpose of the idea would be to remind the Russian people that the American and Russian armies battled as comrades to win the recent war, that our right to remain in Berlin was part of that victory, that the American people do not want war with their former comrades-in-arms and that the propaganda fed them by the Moscow radio that we are panting for war is so much poppycock.

Back of the idea also would be the fact that the 14 men in the Politburo alone can put Russia into a war—unless there is a strong negative urge among the Russian people not to go to war. And the only way to give them that negative urge is to go over the Kremlin's head to make them understand that the American people do not want war either.

Government Reaction

Here is the first-blush reaction of Government officials to the idea of getting these peace appeals via weather balloons to the Russian people:

Weather Bureau—It's perfectly feasible to float small weather balloons from Western Europe to Russia. About seven out of ten would get there. By gauging the amount of gas in the balloons it would be possible to fix the approximate point for their landing inside Russia. (The Japs measured the distance acros sthe Pacific during the war to land balloons in the Pacific Northwest.) Best launching place would be Germany or Northern France. They would drift at a speed of from 25 to 50 miles an hour once they reached the upper wind currents.

Air Forces—Unofficially, think the idea is good. However, past experience shows that balloons released from planes in flight crash against the fuselage and break. Therefore, it's proposed that the balloons be released from the ground. (Weather Bureau says this is feasible).

State Department—Unofficially and very cautiously, thinks idea might be alright.

War Assets Administration—Had large supply of balloons on hand but they're now sold out. Army Signal Corps and Weather Bureau have a certain number which could be borrowed and replaced later.

If it is important to get friendship messages from the American people to the Russian people, then ways and means can be found for doing it. Various patriotic Americans have volunteered to print the messages free, donate candy, wrist watches, etc., to be sent with the messages. The Government has plenty of resourcefulness to put across this propaganda—if it wants to.

In wartime we make any sacrifice—blood and treasure—to end a war which has already started. But in peacetime we count the pennies when it comes to preventing a war before it gets started.

These Days

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

Know-How

IT does one good to get away from the great men who have been bawling at us for weeks now and to talk about the simple folks who do the work of this country.

Up here in Sandisfield, in Massachusetts, we have been a long time getting electric power. In spite of all the noise that politicians make about rural electrification, the farmers in these mountains are just getting electricity in the year 1948 and they are very happy to have it, better late than never. But that is not what I want to write about today. It is rather about a foreman, Harry Shutts, who was out on these roads supervising a tough job of digging in this rocky soil, of finding water in every hole, of using inexperienced labor, of getting results such as foremen used to get in the old days before featherbedding, before men were taught to work as little as they could get away with, and often less than that.

I have those, too, up in these parts. I watch their slow motion, their saving of effort, their time-watching at 3:30 to see when their watches will show 4. I have seen them leave work unfinished so that it had to be started all over again the next day.

I have seen contractors lose money on jobs because their help did slipshod work that had to be taken down and done again after inspection. I have even seen damage done by careless, ridiculously careless work. And I have listened by the hour to the union rules.

But not the gang that Harry Shutts supervised. They earned their pay and he kept them at work, not by bossing, not by shouting at them, but by his own example and energy. He was like a hen with her chickens, moving here and there, watching that nobdy got into trouble, guarding against mistakes and accidents. And the most amusing part of it was that, although no longer a youngster, he showed his crew, mostly of war veterans, how to work up in the crown of a maple, how to climb a pole and all that sort of thing.

Apparently he never asked anyone to do anything which he could not or would not do.

It was an impressive picture, lasting about a week near this house, and I suppose all the time in other parts. It was a picture of the kind of hard physical work and straight thinking and decent human relations which built this country before the days when a handout became as respectable as a dollar earned.

It was an example of what created the power of America, the tremendous strength of our country which came out of the muscles and sinews and sweat of our people.

It was exciting to see these men put in a high line of power and then to listen to the politicians talk about all the rural electrification they gave us over 16 years and then watch this efficient crew actually put the poles in the ground, string the wire and tap on the juice.

In the fact of the facts, the politicians' talk is just so much static. And nobody needs to be grateful ever to a politician, who is spending the taxpayer's money.

And that is something they still have to learn. The people know. The people know by daily experience. They shop. They know that meat is not only dear; it is not plentiful. They wonder where it all goes.

They wonder whether Communism in Europe can really be defeated by rationing the American people by keeping prices high and exporting excessively.

The farmers know. They know that government buyers keep farm prices high. The farmer is no dope. He knows that he gets more for his product and pays more for what he buys.

Sure, his income is up, but so is his outgo, and so do his taxes remain high. He is beginning to calculate, as many of us have already done, that a 50-cent dollar is not a hundred-cent dollar.

Let the politicians talk—but the people know.

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, July 23 — The "third round" of inflation is here. After the labor-union leaders insisted on a third round of wage increases, business managements naturally began increasing their prices to offset the increased expense.

The present inflation—or "boom" as some people euphemistically describe it—must inevitably lead to some form of government controls. The controls will never come under a Democratic administration because President Truman is too anxious to get the labor vote and so will not favor wage controls.

The Republican administration next January will find itself compelled to apply controls—if only for the purpose of keeping the spiral from going higher.

The present inflationary trend is the direct result of government action—some of it unavoidable and some of it avoidable. With the government financing the purchases of goods in a $7,000,000,000 international aid program, it was inevitable that scarcities of goods would be intensified and prices would be bid up.

Likewise, with a $13,000,000,000 armament program, the demand for materials and manpower has created shortages that also send prices upward.

The federal government is spending in the neighborhood of $40,000,000,000 a year which means a tremendous demand for goods and services. The situation in Europe has brought on the armament spending and the international aid program. Nobody in either political party here can be blamed for either problem.

Truman Aides Misleading

America has the biggest crops in history, but food is still high in cost because the demand is unprecedented. The Truman Administration spokesmen have misled the public by trying to connect the prices charged in steel, for instance, with the cost of living. There is no connection between the making of industrial prices and the making of food prices. There is, however, a direct connection between increased wages and increased purchasing power and the demand for more and more farm products.

The government, moreover, is pledged to support farm product prices so there is little likelihood that these will reach a natural level even when supply does start balancing demand.

As long as the President claims credit politically for the high farm income and for the high wages and attempts to derive benefit at the polls from it, there is little chance to do anything about inflation. The message to be delivered next week by the President will achieve little attention in a legislative way for the reason that it will be regarded as palpably political. Whatever chance there was for an objective handling of the economic situation was forfeited by the President's blunder in using the stage of a political convention as the place to announce a call for an extra session. The Republicans will play politics, too, this summer and the inflation will continue at least until the legislative and executive branches of the government are in the hands of the same political party, which may be confidently expected for next January.

The Republican Party then will be divided on the issue of controls. The advocates of "let nature take its course" will fight hard against any more controls but the same school of thought is likewise credited sometimes with the harsh comment that a depression might be a good thing.

Dewey May Be Expected To Act

If Governor Dewey is elected, it is not likely that he will allow the inflationary boom to run its course, for the break, when it does come, could be so severe as to make him a one-term President. He must avoid a major depression. This means that, while he may not have in mind any such program today, he will find himself confronted with the necessity of advocating some form of wage and price controls—that is, a holding of the line at levels then existing. If the result could be obtained by voluntary cooperation, it would be even more desirable. But the "voluntary cooperation" urged early this year just before the third round of wage increases and the attempts of some big companies to hold the price line as a means of warding off the wage increases came to naught.

The moment the federal government enlarged its huge spending program, wages rose and prices rose. Somewhere and somehow this trend has to be reversed. Maybe the government may be compelled under a Republican administration to do that which President Truman refuses to do now—namely, to treat wage control and price control on the same basis.

MATTER OF FACT

By JOSEPH And STEWART ALSOP

What Does the Kremlin Want?

WASHINGTON.

WHAT IS THE grand prize for which the Kremlin is willing to bring the world to the very edge of a war which the Kremlin must know it can never win? No one can know for certain the answer to that question. Yet some of the experts are beginning to suspect, on the basis of available evidence, that the Russians now intend actually to incorporate their eastern European empire, including the Soviet zone of Germany, into the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics. For this purpose it is essential that the Western powers evacuate Berlin.

One important item of evidence to support this theory is a recent speech by Otto Grotewohl, Communist leader of the Soviet zone. The speech was delivered to the high chieftains of the Communist S.E.D., and it bears all the earmarks of having been ghostwritten for Grotewohl by his Russian masters. Therefore it is being studied with earnest attention in all the Western capitals.

The speech makes no bones about the desperate economic crisis into which the Russian policy of plunder has plunged the Soviet zone of Germany. Indeed, Grotewohl neatly sums up the crisis: "Hunger is the cause of low production, but to remove hunger, industrial production must itself be raised." The Soviet formula for breaking this vicious circle, as announced by Grotewohl, consists in effect of transforming the Soviet zone of Germany into an economic and political replica of the Soviet Union.

Thus "diversionist" and "bourgeois" political elements are to be ruthlessy eiminated. This sounds the death knell for the stooge non-Communist parties in the Soviet zone. Further, the Communist party itself is to be transformed into an "elite' party (kaderpartei) and "unreliable" elements are to be purged. The purge has, according to reliable reports, already started in Saxony. In short, the Soviets have decided to deal with an economic crisis of a sort familiar in the Soviet Union by political measures also familiar in the Soviet Union.

Moreover, Grotewohl repeatedly insisted in this Soviet-sponsored speech that the Soviet zone Communists are to have no more truck with the West. Henceforth the Soviet zone must be exclusively and wholly "oriented toward the Soviet Union." Grotewohl even hinted that the "German unity" theme which has been the chief instrument of Soviet and Communist propaganda in Germany is now to be abandoned. "For us as a party," he announced, "it is at present impossible to rely on any sort of grouping with the West. It is impossible at the present moment even with regard to German unity."

It is believed that this speech, taken together with other developments, may have the most crucial significance. Some of the other developments are: the purges impending or in progress in eastern Europe; the Kremlin's thunders against the "nationalism" of its Communist stooges; the disciplining of the Western Communist parties, and their transformation into "elite" parties, wholly dependable instruments of Soviet foreign policy; the Tito episode, and the seige of Berlin itself.

All this falls into a neat pattern. The pattern in turn implies that the Kremlin may well have conconcluded that the political capture of western Europe is now impossible, and that the Western powers cannot be blackmailed into scrapping their measures for the economic revival of western Germany. Already, to prevent a repetition of the Tito episode, and to counter the magnetism of a reviving West, the process of securing absolute control of the whole "Molotov area" is under way.

Some experts reason that the final objective of this process is to bring the entire Soviet European empire, including the Soviet zone of Germany, into the Soviet Union, thus providing absolute insurance against defection or revolt. This could be done on a "voluntary" basis, with Romania (already under pressure to join the Soviet Union) leading the parade. But it cannot be done while the Western Allies remain in Berlin. That is why, according to this theory, the Soviets are willing to risk war to force a Western evacuation of Berlin.

The theory is neat, but it is wholly speculative. It will soon undergo the test of events. For some observers believe that, although the Russians would dearly love to see the Westerners out of Berlin, their real objective is to force another German conference. At this conference they could be expected to do their utmost to embarrass the West. They could offer apparently important concessions to the Germans—a central government so designed as to be subject to Kremlin control, some reduction in reparations, an offer to withdraw all troops and the formation of a Germany army (officered by the M.V.D.). By offering spurious concessions, while refusing to negotiate on the real problem of Germany, the Soviets might hope to keep western Germany, and indeed all western Europe in a state of turmoil in which recovery would be impossible.

It will soon be known whether this is the real objective of the seige of Berlin. For in their forthcoming note to Moscow, the Allies can be expected to make it entirely clear that they are prepared to negotiate again on Germany, provided the blockade is first lifted. If this note is also rejected, it will be wholly evident that Berlin itself is the minimum Soviet objective. Then this country and the Western World will have need of courage and quiet determination.

(Q) "Dear Nancy: I am in danger of losing my best friend—because of her parents. You see, we practically lived at each other's house and were together most of the time, until her father and I started to disagree. Now whenever I go over there, although he isn't actually rude, he shows me quite plainly that I'm not very welcome. Both my friend and I feel uncomfortable about this, and I've gone to her home only once or twice in the last two weeks. I'd hate to see our friendship broken, but I don't know how to prevent it with things the way they are. She feels as badly as I do about this, so we're hoping you can give us some advice."

(A) First, get to the bottom of the cause of his dislike for you. Plot a little strategy with her, and have her find out why he seems to resent you. If it's a feeling that has cropped up just lately, perhaps she can pin it down to a certain reason, and with a little time and tact, you can get it straightened out. Or, it might be that he objects to you and his daughter dropping in and out of the house constantly, and possibly never giving him a moment of peace and quiet. If you can't have his answer in black and white, because he refuses to explain, it would be better to stay away for a while, and perhaps things will clear up of their own accord. Don't limit yourself to one friend, but have several—it's much more fun with a crowd. Then, if there are any unfortunate quarrels, you won't be left alone, wondering how to get back into the social swim.

(Q) "Dear Nancy: I'd like to know how to date a boy whom I've known a long time. He often walks me home from school or a party we've both attended, but he has never asked me for a regular date. He's very nice, and I'd like to see more of him. Could you advise me about this?"

(A) It's the boy's privilege to arrange a date—and if he doesn't seem to have that idea in mind, there isn't much you can do about it. But if you get together with a few friends and decide to give a party, or meet at someone's house some evening for a small roll-up-the rugs dancing and snack gathering, arrange it so that the girls ask the boys. That might be just the thing to prod him into planning a twosome for next Saturday. Being a good listener, keeping your attention on him, plus a friendly, interested attitude, can be of great help in your campaign, too.

(Q) "Dear Nancy: I have a problem which has been bothering me for a week. The boy I go with has asked me to a party celebrating the engagement of his brother. I don't know the brother or his fiancee, and I'm not sure I should buy a gift for them. What do you think I should do?"

(A) Since you don't know them, a present from you isn't required. Your date naturally would bring a gift, but inasmuch as both parties are unknown to you, and you were invited by the boy and not his brother or the girl, it would not be improper etiquette if you arrived without one.

If you have a school, family or friend problem, Nancy can help you. Write her in care of this newspaper.

Rumpus Room Good Spot For Sofa Bed

Double-duty sleeping equipment is a natural for use in a rumpus room. Today sofa beds and studio couches are made in several different styles and covered with a variety of attractive fabrics, many of which have a rumpus room motif. An ideal arrangement would be to use one or two of these in place of a number of chairs scattered around the room. This would provide plenty of seating space, yet keep the floor uncluttered for dancing, games and other recreational activities. It would also provide daytime lounging facilities where Mother could take a nap or the children could spend after-school hours.

Perhaps best of all, these double-duty pieces would take care of extra guests by letting the rumpus room double for a guest room. Two studio couches or sofa beds could take care of four guests with ease as they are simple to open and pull out, becoming well-built beds which comfortably accommodate two persons each.

If a college student son or daughter should bring friends home for a week-end, the rumpus room could be turned over to them and all their activities centered in it during their visit. There are any number of times when an extra guest room would be convenient so that family activities would not be upset by a doubling-up on sleeping accommodations.

Oranges And Grapefruit Re-Green In Spring

That merry prankster, Mother Nature, has been having fun down in Florida, tinting the tops of oranges and grapefruit with delicate green! What happened is easily explained by science, but since it may be puzzling to the lass with the market basket, here's the story:

In spring each and every citrus tree sends up fresh supplies for chlorophyll, the green coloring matter necessary to the developing of new fruit. Warm spring rains, such as Florida had this year, bring out that green coloring extra-early. First thing you know, not only the newly developing fruit but also the already-ripe fruit on the trees begins to take on some of the green coloring matter, and that's how come green-tinted oranges and grapefruit.

Has No Effect On Ripeness

The thing to remember is that green-tinted though they may be, owing to Nature's unseasonable whimsy, the fruit is just as ripe and juicy as ever inside. A fine crop of valencia type oranges and big, firm grapefruit from Florida is at your market now. Don't let Mother Nature's michievous notion of color keep you from enjoying it. Rich in natural vitamin C, juicy, firm, plump with pretty sections, these are fruit superb for breakfast, snacking, desserts, sauce-making and salad-ing.

Here are recipes to make the most of delightful fresh citrus flavor which holds the same zippy appeal, the same ripe-from-the-tree tingle despite that whimsical green tint from Nature's palette.

GARDEN TRICK

A galvanized steel sprinkling can becomes a handy insecticide sprayer when destructive insects attack the flower garden. The nozzle of the sprinkler is finely perforated to give an even spray which will not damage delicate plant leaves.

Beautiful flowers in the garden throughout the summer and fall depend primarily upon two things: proper watering and protection from destructive insects.

For the small flower garden, galvanized steel sprinkling cans are an aid for fulfilling both these requirements. These sprinklers are ideal for watering plants because the water is distributed in a fine, uniform spray and the cans are easy to handle and carry. Remember, when watering plants, that it is best to give them a thorough soaking about once a week, rather than tiny daily waterings which only wet the surface of the ground.

When insects attack the flower garden, a galvanized steel sprinkling can may also be used for spraying insecticides. The insecticide solution can be mixed right in the sprinkler. The can's especially designed handles make it simple to direct the spray so that the solution is distributed uniformly on plant leaves.

Whenever insectitcides are used, the directions for mixing and using should be followed accurately. Since most insecticides are poisonous, the sprinkling can must be thoroughly washed before it is used to water leafy vegetables or fruits which are to be eaten. Many gardeners find it convenient to keep a special sprinkler to use solely for the purpose of spraying flowers, in addition to those they have for general purposes.

This wise father is teaching his little son the simple story of Jesus. He explains each episode in the book and seeks to impress the lesson of each picture on the mind of the child.

The human mind is most receptive and most plastic during the early years of life. Much will be learned and much forgotten in later years, but the vivid impressions of childhood will live on.

Childhood is the time to develop the thought habits and give strength and direction to the character of a child. And there is no better medium for this training than the simple human stories of the Bible.

The parent who neglects such training and permits his child to grow up with wrong impressions about life and duty and faith, is taking a chance on the child's future and passing up one of the gravest responsibilities of parenthood.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

This wise father is teaching his little son the simple story of Jesus. He explains each episode in the book and seeks to impress the lesson of each picture on the mind of the child.

The human mind is most receptive and most plastic during the early years of life. Much will be learned and much forgotten in later years, but the vivid impressions of childhood will live on.

Childhood is the time to develop the thought habits and give strength and direction to the character of a child. And there is no better medium for this training than the simple human stories of the Bible.

The parent who neglects such training and permits his child to grow up with wrong impressions about life and duty and faith, is taking a chance on the child's future and passing up one of the gravest responsibilities of parenthood.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Advice To The Lovelorn

Unwise To Evade Your Home State's Marriage Requirements

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX
Famous Authority on Problems of Love and Marriage

Dear Miss Fairfax:

We both are over 35 years old and we would like to know where we can go to get married without a waiting period. What states do not require a blood test? We would like to keep our marriage secret for a while.

"SECRET"

Dear "Secret":

I never can understand why anyone is in so much of a hurry to get married that they can't wait to do the things that are designed for their own protection. It would be very foolish indeed for you to get married without both of you having blood tests.

If you are determined to go through with such an unwise plan, however, there are 14 states still so unenlightened as to grant marriage licenses without such a test, but none of them is anywhere near where you live, being either in the south or far west. You would also have to go a long way from home to find a state where there was no waiting period either before or after getting a license. The best you could do would be in Maryland, which requires only a 48-hour waiting period before the license is issued and has no blood test requirement.

I don't suppose you want anybody's advice, but I am going to give you mine anyhow. Stay in your own state and fulfill its requirements before getting married and don't keep your marriage secret. You'll make a mistake if you do otherwise.

Light-Headed View Of Marriage

Dear Miss Fairfax:

I am an 18-year old boy in love with a 15-year old girl. I want to elope with her next month, but my parents object although hers don't. What should I do?

By the way, I was married last year to a girl who died. My brother is also in love with the girl I want to marry now.

"RUSSEL"

Dear "Russel":

I can't imagine what kind of an elopement you're planning if you and this girl have already talked it over with your parents. In any event, your parents are the only sensible ones when they object to any such marriage as this. You have no business in the world to try and get a 15-year old girl to marry you, and I certainly hope you do not succeed.

It seems to me you take a very light-headed view of marriage anyhow, and I suggest that before contracting a second one at your age, you wait until you grow up enough to acquire some common sense.

Mix four tablespoons of mayonnaise, one tablespoon of prepared mustard, and two tablespoons of flour in a saucepan. Add a forth teaspoon of salt, a half teaspoon of paprika, and one and a half cups of milk and stir over a slow fire. You'll have the fool-proof, never-fail Fannie's Cream Sauce that is superb over hot vegetables and fish.

In any event, your parents are the only sensible ones when they object to any such marriage as this. You have no business in the world to try and get a 15-year old girl to marry you, and I certainly hope you do not succeed.

It seems to me you take a very light-headed view of marriage anyhow, and I suggest that before contracting a second one at your age, you wait until you grow up enough to acquire some common sense.

Amvets Defeat Westvaco In 13th Inning, 7 To 6

Teams To Play Final Tourney Contest Today

Creegan Gets Verdict Over Ryan In Thriller

William "Bee" Scarpelli's fly to right field in the 13th inning scored Charley Strauss from third base with the run that gave the Cumberland Amvets a 7-6 decision over Westvaco in the Maryland Semi-Pro Baseball Tournament yesterday at Memorial Field, Westernport.

Strauss opened the 13th with a single to left and when Inskeep let the ball get through him the batter pulled up at third base. Scarpelli's outfield hoist then scored Strauss with the run that broke the 6-6 deadlock.

Play For Title Today

The championship will be at stake today when the teams clash in the final game of the tourney at 4 p. m. at Memorial Park. Each team has won three games and lost one.

Westvaco started off with three runs in the first, Inskeep's single producing the first tally while Hal Robertson drove in the other two. The Amvets took the lead at 5-3 with a four-run splurge in the 6th featured by Joe Geatz's base-cleaning double after Strauss had driven in the first marker.

The Papermakers tied it up at 5-5 in the last of the 9th only to have the Amvets go ahead in the top of the tenth on Tommy Powers' walk and stolen base and Ival Lambert's single. Westvaco, however, knotted the count again in the 10th when High and Deremer singled, "Pat" Creegan purposely passed Inskeep to fill the bases then walked Mosser to force over the tying run

Joe Inskeep belted a 360-foot homer over the left field fence in the 7th frame.

17 Stranded On Bases

Leo Ryan, the third pitcher used by Westvaco was on the mound when the winning run scored in the 13th. Creegan went the route for the Amvets, yielding 13 hits and 10 passes but forced 17 Westvaco runners to perish on the paths. The Amvets' lefthander struck out seven.

The home team completed five double players.

State Of Israel Athletes Barred From Olympics

By TED SMITS

LONDON, July 23—(AP)—The International Olympic ruling body closed the door of the games today on the new state of Israel, thereby halting the threat of a walkout by the Arab nations.

This was done by rejecting the appeal of Israeli sports organizations to take over the invitation previously sent to the now obsolete Palestine Olympic committee.

The action cut the number of participating nations to 61—still a record. Of the 5,000 athletes due to parade in the opening ceremonies next Thursday before the King and Queen of England and a crowd of 83,000 at Wembley, about half are on hand and training hard.

Israel had planned finally to send only two women athletes to London because its 50 male athletes are in Israel's army.

The International Olympic Committee ruled against Israel because the new state is not yet a member of the organization. Egyptians said if Israel had been recognized, the Arab nations would refuse to compete.

Athletes in vari-colored uniforms jostled each other on practice tracks and fields, splashed in the big Wembley pool, and shook off the effects of train and ocean travel.

Head U. S. Track Coach Dean Cromwell looked over the Olympic red tile track, declared it was a "beautiful layout," and praised the cool British weather which has distressed some of the competitors from torrid lands.

More Olympic flags appeared in downtown London and the sale of tickets went on briskly, but Col. Evan A. Hunter of the British committee observed that "we in England just don't spend money for sporting events very far in advance."

Boston Sweeps 5-Game Series With Chicago

Bosox Gain On Tribe By Scoring 5-0 Win

BOSTON, July 23 (AP)—With slugger Ted Williams back in the lineup after missing 15 games, the Boston Red Sox won their ninth straight start with a 13-1 decision over the Chicago White Sox today to pull within a game and half of the top-place Cleveland Indians.

Those American League leaders come here tomorrow for a three-game series.

Lefty Mickey Harris pitched a five-hitter as the Red Sox made a five-game sweep. The lowly Chisox escaped a shutout in the fourth inning when Luke Appling walked and Pat Seerey and Mike Tresh singled.

Williams, showing but little sign of the torn rib cartilage that sidelined him, got two hits out of four tries, including a seventh inning two-bagger with the bases loaded.

Bobby Doerr, however, won the individual batting honors by banging out his 18th homer of the season, against Ike Pearson in the eighth, as well as a double and a single. Box:

Frank Toler Hurls League No-Hitter

Bedford Road Victim By Score Of 8 To 0

Frank Toler, pitching ace of the pacesetting Wellersburg team, tossed a no-run, no-hit game yesterday as the County Softball League leaders defeated Bedford Road on the latter's diamond by the score of 8-0.

Only 24 batsmen faced Toler. He issued two walks, one batter was safe on an error and five went down on strikes. Petenbrink had two doubles and a single for the victors.

The win enabled Wellersburg to remain two and one-half games ahead of the Hyndman Firemen who defeated Narrows Park by the score of 8-6. It was the first victory for the Firemen over the Park in five games this season.

Bobby Miller, young Hyndman hurler, relieved Rizer in the 7th with one out and the tying run on base and forced the next two batters to go out on pop flies to the infield. Schadt had three hits for Hyndman, Bob Horn and Raupach two blows each for the Park.

Leo Fleegle and Mosser rapped three safeties each and Jack Clauson belted a triple as Corriganville defeated the Phone Workers 9-4 after spotting the visitors four tallies in the opening stanza. Diamond and Crabtree each hit safely twice for the losers.

Two six-run rallies enabled Allegany Grove to wallop Ellerslie, 12-3. Frye, Wertz and Twigg accounted for six of the winners' nine hits and LaRue smacked a triple. Waltman collected two of the three hits yielded by Burkett.

Phillips twirled a three-hitter to give the Potomac Valley Cubs a 10-2 verdict over the Corner Merchants. Thompson, Cecil, Phillips, McKenzie and D. Lease garnered two hits each for the victors. Scores:

Munday Ties Haas In Reading Open

Both Pros Post 132s At The Halfway Mark

READING, Pa., July 23 (AP)—Rod Munday, making a bid to keep the $15,000 Reading Open title at the York Country Club, and handsome young Freddy Haas, Jr., were all even at 132 after the second round today.

The 36-year-old Munday, playing in his second big tournament this year, played perfect golf through the first 36 holes of the 72 hole grind. His two day card showed an eagle, 10 birds and 25 par holes, tough golf to beat.

The only other tournament Munday has participated in this year was the $15,000 Philadelphia Inquirer in which he finished 16th.

Haas, runnerup in the $10,000 New Orleans Open and winner of the recent Peoria, Ill., Open, bogeyed the 15th and duplicated this disastrous effort on the 16th. Still he also came home with the five-under par 67.

Like Munday, the New Orleans, La., golfer had tied the Berkshire Country Club course mark of 65 in the first round.

Defending Champion E. J. (Dutch) Harrison, Little Rock, Ark., and Johnny Palmer, Badin, N. C., who were tied for the lead with Munday and Haas after the first 18 holes, both slipped slightly but still were in position to have plenty to say about the $2,500 first prize.

Frank Stranahan, Toledo, O., led 10 amateurs into the final 36 hole competition with a 70-69—139. Also at 139 were such threats as Dick Metz, Arkansas City, Kans.; Bob Hamilton, Landover, Md.; Ben Hogan, Hershey, Pa.; Gene Sarazen, Germantown, N. Y.; Gene Webb, Springfield, Mo., and Al Smith, Winston Salem, N. C.

Betting Nears $900,000 Mark For Four Days

Double Pays $133.80; Trainers' Race Tied

Leading trainers at the current race meeting of the Cumberland Fair Association provided the winners in yesterday's feature races at the local half-mile racing strip as 7,000 fans wagered a total of $233,653 on the eight events, the biggest mutuel handle recorded during the first four days of the 10-day session.

In the opening feature, The Thomas B. Finan Memorial, Rough Cloud, owned by Mrs. J. Y. Christmas of Upper Marlboro, Md., registered her second win in four days by defeating Tintrel and Army Belle.

The chestnut daughter of Swashbuckler, saddled by J. Yancey Christmas, was a second choice in the wagering and returned $6 for $2. C. Meyerhoffer rode the winner, the third of the meeting for Christmas. Aylesbury, owned by Mrs. Mary Knieriem of Cumberland, was the choice of the bettors, but ran out of the money.

Mrs. Mudd Presents Trophy

The trophy donated by Thomas B. Finan, Jr., was presented to Trainer Christmas by Mrs. F. DeSales Mudd, sister of the donor and daughter of the late Thomas B. Finan, former director of the local fair association.

The race for the title of leading trainer became deadlocked at three-all when Bardy's Baby, Eddie Ballenger up, won over Gay Array by four lengths in the sixth, The Ward N. Hauger Memorial.

Bardy's Baby, saddled by Mrs. George A. Saportas, Jr., of Monkton, Md., paid $11.20 for each $2 ticket bet on the nose. Rough Honey, the favorite, ran 7th.

The victory of Bardy's Baby enabled Mrs. George A. Sportas, Jr., to tie J. Yancey Christmas in the race for leading trainer.

Ward N. Hauger, Jr., introduced Mont McIntyre, member of the West Virginia Racing Commission, who presented the Hauger trophy to George A. Saportas, Jr., and then invited the fans to attend Wheeling's 55-day race meeting which gets under way on Saturday, July 31.

H. G. Tonkin's Shalam, the betting choice, defeated Cee Bee Sir by a half length to take the third and W. F. Parks' Briarbroom romped off with the major share of the purse in the 4th. Plymouth, the favorite, finished third in the five furlongs sprint.

Whipped Cream nosed out Boiled Brisket in the 7th and Chalpre, a 5 to 1 shot, raced home ahead of Bob Hi and Distant in the mile and one sixteenth 8th.

Freddy Kratz retained the lead in the jockeys' race with 32 points by adding two seconds to his record. Sammy Palumbo rode three place horses and now trails with 25 tallies.

Amvets Defeat Westvaco In 13th Inning, 7 To 6

Creegan Gets Verdict Over Ryan In Thriller

William "Bee" Scarpelli's fly to right field in the 13th inning scored Charley Strauss from third base with the run that gave the Cumberland Amvets a 7-6 decision over Westvaco in the Maryland Semi-Pro Baseball Tournament yesterday at Memorial Field, Westernport.

Strauss opened the 13th with a single to left and when Inskeep let the ball get through him the batter pulled up at third base. Scarpelli's outfield hoist then scored Strauss with the run that broke the 6-6 deadlock.

Play For Title Today

The championship will be at stake today when the teams clash in the final game of the tourney at 4 p. m. at Memorial Park. Each team has won three games and lost one.

Westvaco started off with three runs in the first, Inskeep's single producing the first tally while Hal Robertson drove in the other two. The Amvets took the lead at 5-3 with a four-run splurge in the 6th featured by Joe Geatz's base-cleaning double after Strauss had driven in the first marker.

The Papermakers tied it up at 5-5 in the last of the 9th only to have the Amvets go ahead in the top of the tenth on Tommy Powers' walk and stolen base and Ival Lambert's single. Westvaco, however, knotted the count again in the 10th when High and Deremer singled, "Pat" Creegan purposely passed Inskeep to fill the bases then walked Mosser to force over the tying run

Joe Inskeep belted a 360-foot homer over the left field fence in the 7th frame.

17 Stranded On Bases

Leo Ryan, the third pitcher used by Westvaco was on the mound when the winning run scored in the 13th. Creegan went the route for the Amvets, yielding 13 hits and 10 passes but forced 17 Westvaco runners to perish on the paths. The Amvets' lefthander struck out seven.

The home team completed five double players.

State Of Israel Athletes Barred From Olympics

By TED SMITS

LONDON, July 23—(AP)—The International Olympic ruling body closed the door of the games today on the new state of Israel, thereby halting the threat of a walkout by the Arab nations.

This was done by rejecting the appeal of Israeli sports organizations to take over the invitation previously sent to the now obsolete Palestine Olympic committee.

The action cut the number of participating nations to 61—still a record. Of the 5,000 athletes due to parade in the opening ceremonies next Thursday before the King and Queen of England and a crowd of 83,000 at Wembley, about half are on hand and training hard.

Israel had planned finally to send only two women athletes to London because its 50 male athletes are in Israel's army.

The International Olympic Committee ruled against Israel because the new state is not yet a member of the organization. Egyptians said if Israel had been recognized, the Arab nations would refuse to compete.

Athletes in vari-colored uniforms jostled each other on practice tracks and fields, splashed in the big Wembley pool, and shook off the effects of train and ocean travel.

Head U. S. Track Coach Dean Cromwell looked over the Olympic red tile track, declared it was a "beautiful layout," and praised the cool British weather which has distressed some of the competitors from torrid lands.

More Olympic flags appeared in downtown London and the sale of tickets went on briskly, but Col. Evan A. Hunter of the British committee observed that "we in England just don't spend money for sporting events very far in advance."

Boston Sweeps 5-Game Series With Chicago

Bosox Gain On Tribe By Scoring 5-0 Win

BOSTON, July 23 (AP)—With slugger Ted Williams back in the lineup after missing 15 games, the Boston Red Sox won their ninth straight start with a 13-1 decision over the Chicago White Sox today to pull within a game and half of the top-place Cleveland Indians.

Those American League leaders come here tomorrow for a three-game series.

Lefty Mickey Harris pitched a five-hitter as the Red Sox made a five-game sweep. The lowly Chisox escaped a shutout in the fourth inning when Luke Appling walked and Pat Seerey and Mike Tresh singled.

Williams, showing but little sign of the torn rib cartilage that sidelined him, got two hits out of four tries, including a seventh inning two-bagger with the bases loaded.

Bobby Doerr, however, won the individual batting honors by banging out his 18th homer of the season, against Ike Pearson in the eighth, as well as a double and a single. Box:

Frank Toler Hurls League No-Hitter

Bedford Road Victim By Score Of 8 To 0

Frank Toler, pitching ace of the pacesetting Wellersburg team, tossed a no-run, no-hit game yesterday as the County Softball League leaders defeated Bedford Road on the latter's diamond by the score of 8-0.

Only 24 batsmen faced Toler. He issued two walks, one batter was safe on an error and five went down on strikes. Petenbrink had two doubles and a single for the victors.

The win enabled Wellersburg to remain two and one-half games ahead of the Hyndman Firemen who defeated Narrows Park by the score of 8-6. It was the first victory for the Firemen over the Park in five games this season.

Bobby Miller, young Hyndman hurler, relieved Rizer in the 7th with one out and the tying run on base and forced the next two batters to go out on pop flies to the infield. Schadt had three hits for Hyndman, Bob Horn and Raupach two blows each for the Park.

Leo Fleegle and Mosser rapped three safeties each and Jack Clauson belted a triple as Corriganville defeated the Phone Workers 9-4 after spotting the visitors four tallies in the opening stanza. Diamond and Crabtree each hit safely twice for the losers.

Two six-run rallies enabled Allegany Grove to wallop Ellerslie, 12-3. Frye, Wertz and Twigg accounted for six of the winners' nine hits and LaRue smacked a triple. Waltman collected two of the three hits yielded by Burkett.

Phillips twirled a three-hitter to give the Potomac Valley Cubs a 10-2 verdict over the Corner Merchants. Thompson, Cecil, Phillips, McKenzie and D. Lease garnered two hits each for the victors. Scores:

Munday Ties Haas In Reading Open

Both Pros Post 132s At The Halfway Mark

READING, Pa., July 23 (AP)—Rod Munday, making a bid to keep the $15,000 Reading Open title at the York Country Club, and handsome young Freddy Haas, Jr., were all even at 132 after the second round today.

The 36-year-old Munday, playing in his second big tournament this year, played perfect golf through the first 36 holes of the 72 hole grind. His two day card showed an eagle, 10 birds and 25 par holes, tough golf to beat.

The only other tournament Munday has participated in this year was the $15,000 Philadelphia Inquirer in which he finished 16th.

Haas, runnerup in the $10,000 New Orleans Open and winner of the recent Peoria, Ill., Open, bogeyed the 15th and duplicated this disastrous effort on the 16th. Still he also came home with the five-under par 67.

Like Munday, the New Orleans, La., golfer had tied the Berkshire Country Club course mark of 65 in the first round.

Defending Champion E. J. (Dutch) Harrison, Little Rock, Ark., and Johnny Palmer, Badin, N. C., who were tied for the lead with Munday and Haas after the first 18 holes, both slipped slightly but still were in position to have plenty to say about the $2,500 first prize.

Frank Stranahan, Toledo, O., led 10 amateurs into the final 36 hole competition with a 70-69—139. Also at 139 were such threats as Dick Metz, Arkansas City, Kans.; Bob Hamilton, Landover, Md.; Ben Hogan, Hershey, Pa.; Gene Sarazen, Germantown, N. Y.; Gene Webb, Springfield, Mo., and Al Smith, Winston Salem, N. C.

Double Pays $133.80; Trainers' Race Tied

Leading trainers at the current race meeting of the Cumberland Fair Association provided the winners in yesterday's feature races at the local half-mile racing strip as 7,000 fans wagered a total of $233,653 on the eight events, the biggest mutuel handle recorded during the first four days of the 10-day session.

In the opening feature, The Thomas B. Finan Memorial, Rough Cloud, owned by Mrs. J. Y. Christmas of Upper Marlboro, Md., registered her second win in four days by defeating Tintrel and Army Belle.

The chestnut daughter of Swashbuckler, saddled by J. Yancey Christmas, was a second choice in the wagering and returned $6 for $2. C. Meyerhoffer rode the winner, the third of the meeting for Christmas. Aylesbury, owned by Mrs. Mary Knieriem of Cumberland, was the choice of the bettors, but ran out of the money.

Mrs. Mudd Presents Trophy

The trophy donated by Thomas B. Finan, Jr., was presented to Trainer Christmas by Mrs. F. DeSales Mudd, sister of the donor and daughter of the late Thomas B. Finan, former director of the local fair association.

The race for the title of leading trainer became deadlocked at three-all when Bardy's Baby, Eddie Ballenger up, won over Gay Array by four lengths in the sixth, The Ward N. Hauger Memorial.

Bardy's Baby, saddled by Mrs. George A. Saportas, Jr., of Monkton, Md., paid $11.20 for each $2 ticket bet on the nose. Rough Honey, the favorite, ran 7th.

The victory of Bardy's Baby enabled Mrs. George A. Sportas, Jr., to tie J. Yancey Christmas in the race for leading trainer.

Ward N. Hauger, Jr., introduced Mont McIntyre, member of the West Virginia Racing Commission, who presented the Hauger trophy to George A. Saportas, Jr., and then invited the fans to attend Wheeling's 55-day race meeting which gets under way on Saturday, July 31.

Other members of the West Virginia Racing Commission were here, the guests of the Cumberland Fair Association on West Virginia Day.

Daily Double Pays $133.80

Roziante, one of the two favorites to win during the afternoon, took the first race, and coupled with Chosen Miss, 9 to 1 shot winner of the second, returned $133.80 for the 8-3 combination in the Daily Double.

H. G. Tonkin's Shalam, the betting choice, defeated Cee Bee Sir by a half length to take the third and W. F. Parks' Briarbroom romped off with the major share of the purse in the 4th. Plymouth, the favorite, finished third in the five furlongs sprint.

Whipped Cream nosed out Boiled Brisket in the 7th and Chalpre, a 5 to 1 shot, raced home ahead of Bob Hi and Distant in the mile and one sixteenth 8th.

Freddy Kratz retained the lead in the jockeys' race with 32 points by adding two seconds to his record. Sammy Palumbo rode three place horses and now trails with 25 tallies.

Wagering Nears Million

Wagering for the four days mounted to $895,322 compared to $905,268 for the first four days last year. Yesterday's $233,653 mutuel handle was up $2,285 over the 4th day in 1947.

Today is B.P.O. Elks' Day and the feature race is the $1,500 Harry A. Manley Memorial Handicap, 5th event on the card. Post time is 2:30 p. m.

Keyser Is Winner Over Barton Club In League Battle

Lefty Bill Defeats Noonan In 7-6 Tilt

Howard "Bub" Bill southpawed the Keyser Athletic Club to a 7 to 6 decision over Barton in a Bi-State Baseball League game played yesterday in Barton.

Bill kept ten hits well spaced and struck out seven. Jim Noonan, Barton twirler, was as wild as the proverbial March hare, walking four, hitting two and uncorking four wild pitches. He yielded only six hits and fanned eight.

Rotruck's base cleaning double featured Keyser's five-run rally in the second frame. Claude Ravenscroft homered for Barton in the 4th while Noonan and McMillan obtained two hits each.

Four games are scheduled in the league today. Frostburg plays Queen City at Stitcher Field, Midland invades Lonaconing, Mt. Savage is host to the Hyndman Firemen and Keyser plays at Barton.

Tomorrow's schedule is as follows: Westvaco at Lonaconing, Mt. Savage at Frostburg, Keyser at Midland, Queen City at Barton and Hyndman Firemen at Amvets at Community Park at 3:30 p. m.

President Robert M. Smith last night announced that the Frostburg VFW has signed Joseph Wengerd and Louis Henry and released Mayford LaRue and Eddie Drew. Mt. Savage has signed Darrell Stevens and John Campbell and Hyndman has added Charles Popelick to its roster.

The league will hold a meeting Monday at Mt. Savage to pick an all-star team to face the Bi-State loop All-Stars August 4 in Westernport at 5:15 p. m., and transact other business.

The score:

KEYSER	051 000 010—7	6	2
BARTON	002 100 120—6	10	3

Bill and Brantner. Noonan and Lashbaugh.

Lefty Bill Defeats Noonan In 7-6 Tilt

Howard "Bub" Bill southpawed the Keyser Athletic Club to a 7 to 6 decision over Barton in a Bi-State Baseball League game played yesterday in Barton.

Bill kept ten hits well spaced and struck out seven. Jim Noonan, Barton twirler, was as wild as the proverbial March hare, walking four, hitting two and uncorking four wild pitches. He yielded only six hits and fanned eight.

Rotruck's base cleaning double featured Keyser's five-run rally in the second frame. Claude Ravenscroft homered for Barton in the 4th while Noonan and McMillan obtained two hits each.

Four games are scheduled in the league today. Frostburg plays Queen City at Stitcher Field, Midland invades Lonaconing, Mt. Savage is host to the Hyndman Firemen and Keyser plays at Barton.

Tomorrow's schedule is as follows: Westvaco at Lonaconing, Mt. Savage at Frostburg, Keyser at Midland, Queen City at Barton and Hyndman Firemen at Amvets at Community Park at 3:30 p. m.

President Robert M. Smith last night announced that the Frostburg VFW has signed Joseph Wengerd and Louis Henry and released Mayford LaRue and Eddie Drew. Mt. Savage has signed Darrell Stevens and John Campbell and Hyndman has added Charles Popelick to its roster.

The league will hold a meeting Monday at Mt. Savage to pick an all-star team to face the Bi-State loop All-Stars August 4 in Westernport at 5:15 p. m., and transact other business.

The score:

KEYSER .... 051 000 010—7 6 2
BARTON .... 002 100 120—6 10 3
Bill and Brantner. Noonan and Lashbaugh.

Siamese Children Called Healthiest

BANGKOK (AP) — Siam's children are Asia's healthiest, report two overseas doctors surveying child welfare Asia.

They are Dr. Thomas Parran, former director general of the U. S. Public Health Service, and Dr. C. K. Lakshmanan, director of the All-India Institute of Hygiene and Public Health. Their trip is sponsored by the United Nations Aid for Children Fund.

Siamese children, said the two doctors, generally enjoy better nutrition and education than children in neighboring countries. Siam's infant mortality rate is Asia's lowest. But they recommended after conferences here that a Siamese public health officer study abroad for a year, paying special attention to nutrition.

HOLLYWOOD, July 23—(INS)—In these days of farming out contract stars for fabulous amounts over their regular salary, it is a pretty swell thing Charlie Einfeld did in letting Marie Windsor accept the George Raft picture and keep all she makes above her salary at Enterprise.

Huntington Hartford III met 18-year-old Barbara Bestar dining in a cafe with her family and was so struck with her beauty that he took her over to George Pal about the queen of the forest role in "Adventures of Tom Thumb."

Barbara qualifies because she is an "unknown" with no previous camera experience and is a 110-pound, five-foot-three eyeful of brunette beauty.

Frostburg May Get Aerial Marking

FROSTBURG — Mountain City Council No. 11, Jr. O. U. A. M., at a meeting last evening agreed to make some arrangement with the city to have the word "Frostburg" painted on the roof of the pavilion at Junior Order Park as a guide to aviators.

In past months numerous pilots have been confused by the present "Mountain City" sign on the pavilion.

John W. Timmons, an officer of the council, conferred with Mayor Marshall C. Skidmore yesterday and informed him that Bray Thompson has offered to paint the sign on the roof without charge, providing the city furnishes the paint.

The matter will be presented to the city council at the next meeting, to be held July 29.

Appeals Taken In Church Vandalism

OAKLAND, Md., July 23 (AP)—Appeals to Circuit Court have been taken for three boys convicted of tearing up the Episcopal Church at Frankville.

Magistrate H. A. Loraditch sentenced the oldest to seven years in the Maryland Training School for Boys and imposed suspended sentences on the other two when they first came up for hearing.

W. Dwight Stover, Garrett County state's attorney, said the three youngsters admitted entering the church while on a fishing expedition and building a fire to get warm.

All the building's window lights were broken out, chairs and tables were broken; 25 hymnals and prayer books were burned, and the collection plates were thrown out a window.

Paul Richard Wilt, 15, was sentenced to the training school until he is 21. The other boys were his younger brother, Raymond Wilt, 12, and Frankie Lantz, 11. All live in the Frankville section.

The building formerly was a school but in recent months it has been used by the Episcopal Church.

The case will come up again at the September term of Circuit Court. Paul Richard Wilt has been released on bond in the meantime.

Crim Denies Rumors About Retirement

OAKLAND—D. Cal Crim, at 83, is still creating headlines in the newspapers of Cincinnati, O. On Wednesday, July 14, it was because of rumors his retirement as head of the Cal Crim Detective Agency in that city.

"Fie on retirement," said Cal. "I've got a lot of good years left."

Crim resigned as president of the concern but retains his title as chairman of the board of directors.

Crim arrived in Cincinnati as a barefoot boy in 1879 after having "ridden the rods" from Oakland, his boyhood home. He was a bellhop, clerk at the hotel, barber shop bootblack and newspaper carrier, but in 1886, when he was 22, Mr. Crim went to work for the Cincinnati Police Department and three years later was made a detective.

He was made detective chief in 1908 and in 1914 retired to start his own detective agency. In the past 10 years he has been particularly interested in boys' clubs of Cincinnati.

He declares, "It's wonderful what you can do with properly trained boys. There never was a bad one. It's environment and circumstances that start them off wrong."

Crim has never forgotten his boyhood town. He contributed $3,000 to purchase the new library site, has contributed $500 to the Oakland Band and sent funds here following the tornado of a few years ago, amounting to $500. He has visited here upon numerous occasions, giving generously to various projects.

First Steps Taken For Approval Of Hospital Contract

Officials Notified Of State Sanction

By GEORGE H. HANST

OAKLAND — Action concerning the approval of Moyer Brothers of Altoona, Pa., as contractors for the construction of the Garrett County Memorial Hospital at Oakland, was taken yesterday morning in a telegram to E. Ray Jones from L. T. Smith, construction engineer for the State Department of Health. Smith sent the telegram on behalf of Dr. R. H. Riley, director of the State Department of Health and Chairman of the Maryland Hospital Planning Commission.

The telegram stated that a letter of approval was in the mail approving the action of the County Commissioners in accepting the low bid.

At a meeting of the commissioners on Tuesday night with executors of the will of the late George W. Loar, it was agreed that the bid of Moyer Brothers would be accepted and the contract awarded as soon as the federal government gives its approval. The bid was for $426,000.

Jones said Moyer Brothers were being notified by telegram of the approval. The firm will then furnish completion and payment bonds, after which it will be authorized to proceed immediately, he said.

This ends the first phase of the project to get a modern hospital at Oakland. It was announced on July 7, when bids were opened, that work on the structure would begin within two or three weeks after approval was received and the contract awarded, and that the structure would be completed within 365 calendar days after construction was started.

There was no change in the outward appearance of the two-story hospital in the revised plans and the completed structure will have 34 beds, a clinic and a laboratory, with space provided on the first floor for offices of the county health department. It will be of brick construction, with a full basement underneath.

Federal funds totaling $163,000 have been earmarked for the project. The sum of $170,000 was left for the hospital by the late George W. Loar, and an additional $101,320.84 was raised by local contributions.

Officials estimated that it was believed $515,000 would be needed for construction and equipment, some $50,000 to $55,000 more than is in sight at present, but they were of the opinion that many additional contributions would be sent in as soon as construction gets underway.

Link River flows entirely within the city limits of Klamath Falls, Oregon.

The case will come up again at the September term of Circuit Court. Paul Richard Wilt has been released on bond in the meantime.

Crim Denies Rumors About Retirement

OAKLAND—D. Cal Crim, at 83, is still creating headlines in the newspapers of Cincinnati, O. On Wednesday, July 14, it was because of rumors his retirement as head of the Cal Crim Detective Agency in that city.

"Fie on retirement," said Cal. "I've got a lot of good years left."

Crim resigned as president of the concern but retains his title as chairman of the board of directors.

Crim arrived in Cincinnati as a barefoot boy in 1879 after having "ridden the rods" from Oakland, his boyhood home. He was a bellhop, clerk at the hotel, barber shop bootblack and newspaper carrier, but in 1886, when he was 22, Mr. Crim went to work for the Cincinnati Police Department and three years later was made a detective.

He was made detective chief in 1908 and in 1914 retired to start his own detective agency. In the past 10 years he has been particularly interested in boys' clubs of Cincinnati.

He declares, "It's wonderful what you can do with properly trained boys. There never was a bad one. It's environment and circumstances that start them off wrong."

Crim has never forgotten his boyhood town. He contributed $3,000 to purchase the new library site, has contributed $500 to the Oakland Band and sent funds here following the tornado of a few years ago, amounting to $500. He has visited here upon numerous occasions, giving generously to various projects.

First Steps Taken For Approval Of Hospital Contract

By GEORGE H. HANST

OAKLAND — Action concerning the approval of Moyer Brothers of Altoona, Pa., as contractors for the construction of the Garrett County Memorial Hospital at Oakland, was taken yesterday morning in a telegram to E. Ray Jones from L. T. Smith, construction engineer for the State Department of Health. Smith sent the telegram on behalf of Dr. R. H. Riley, director of the State Department of Health and Chairman of the Maryland Hospital Planning Commission.

The telegram stated that a letter of approval was in the mail approving the action of the County Commissioners in accepting the low bid.

At a meeting of the commissioners on Tuesday night with executors of the will of the late George W. Loar, it was agreed that the bid of Moyer Brothers would be accepted and the contract awarded as soon as the federal government gives its approval. The bid was for $426,000.

Jones said Moyer Brothers were being notified by telegram of the approval. The firm will then furnish completion and payment bonds, after which it will be authorized to proceed immediately, he said.

This ends the first phase of the project to get a modern hospital at Oakland. It was announced on July 7, when bids were opened, that work on the structure would begin within two or three weeks after approval was received and the contract awarded, and that the structure would be completed within 365 calendar days after construction was started.

There was no change in the outward appearance of the two-story hospital in the revised plans and the completed structure will have 34 beds, a clinic and a laboratory, with space provided on the first floor for offices of the county health department. It will be of brick construction, with a full basement underneath.

Federal funds totaling $163,000 have been earmarked for the project. The sum of $170,000 was left for the hospital by the late George W. Loar, and an additional $101,320.84 was raised by local contributions.

Officials estimated that it was believed $515,000 would be needed for construction and equipment, some $50,000 to $55,000 more than is in sight at present, but they were of the opinion that many additional contributions would be sent in as soon as construction gets underway.

Link River flows entirely within the city limits of Klamath Falls, Oregon.

Today's Talk

Women

It is a fine thing the way women in America are taking their places in high positions and making good in them. This autumn the State of Maine will send a woman to the United States Senate — the first woman to be elected to that great body. She has honored the nation as a member in the House of Representatives.

Women have been honored on the postage stamps of many nations, including the United States, and soon another stamp will honor the first leaders in women's emancipation. A just tribute. In the intellectual life of a nation the brains of women have played a part, and they are outstanding in science, business, literature, and the arts. It is to be hoped that soon there will be no discrimination in the wages of men and women. If a woman does the same job as a man, she should be given exactly the same remuneration.

I am glad to see women in politics. They are sorely needed there. They elevate it and put the men on their toes. Their influence on legislation is bound to grow and become increasingly more important. Governor Dewey has said that he intends having a woman in his cabinet if he is elected President. Women should be in the cabinet. One of the greatest and noblest women leaders with whom it has been my privilege to meet and talk was the late Carrie Chapman Catt.

The lives of millions of pupils in our public schools have been influenced beyond all calculation by women teachers—and all too poorly paid for their sacrifices and devotion. And what a magnificent job women did in the recent war. And in peacetime travelling from patient to patient, in our hospitals and homes, are thees same noble angels of light—women nurses!

I have a little book that was published several years ago, on the mothers of the Presidents of the United States, and a wonderfully enlightening an inspiring book it is—great mothers of great men. But great mothers are not confined to those in high political life; they will be found to be the mothers of all great men, in an endless array of those who have distinguished themselves throughout all history. No name in all this world is so sacred as that of mother!

Guests Judge You By Your Living Room

Your living room is the place where the entire family invariably gathers in its leisure hours. The arrangement of furniture in this room is therefore of prime importance.

And the living room is usually considered a pretty accurate guide to the rest of the house—as well as a complete revelation of the hostess's personality!

When a guest enters the living room and finds it attractive and comfortable, she gets a pleasant, favorable impression. The guest may have only seen the living room, but that is where she formed her opinion.

Small Quarters Call For Dual Purpose Beds

Young couples buying furniture for their new homes should not forget double-duty sleeping equipment. In these days of cramped living quarters, it is usually the only answer to guest problems and a necessity in one-room apartments. With the variety of double-duty equipment available these days, however, there is a type suitable to every need.

SALLY'S SALLIES

"I want one I can wear more than once, maybe."

Versatile mattresses and springs-on-legs star in both bedroom and living room. Slipcovered and bolstered with pillows, they serve as lounges by day and beds by night. Later they can be used in the bedroom of a larger home. Sofa beds and studio couches are also wonderful solutions to either the every-night sleeping problem or for occasional guests. Available now in styles and fabrics to suit every period, they are an addition to any room. Besides standard sized sofa beds, there are convertible love seats and chair beds which are adaptable to conversation groups and smaller rooms.

Cream cheese mixed with salad dressing, chopped green pepper, and prepared horseradish makes a wonderful sandwich spread.

Civil War Hastened Re-Organization Of Nursing In U. S.

It is tragic verity that war is a disastrously expensive teacher but a good one if its lessons are heeded. A case in point is the Civil War, which was largely responsible for the reorganization of our nursing system. The growth of the nursing profession, the largest group serving U. S. health needs today (the American Nurses' Association alone has more than 160,000 registered professional nurse members, is directly traceable to reformations which took place soon after, and largely because of, the Civil War.

Thousands of women were given intense but hasty instruction courses by hospitals when the Civil War began, but most of the military nursing service during the next four years was extemporaneous Health standards in Northern and Southern hospitals alike were far below those of the present day.

The war revealed the weaknesses of the volunteer nurse system and th need for trained personnel in sufficient numbers to cope with large scale emergencies. It also spotlighted the necessity for altering the structure of nursing schools as they then existed. The pattern for reform, fortunately, was already demonstrating its worth in England, where Florence Nightingale's theories had been put into practice at St. Thomas's Hospital in London. Miss Nightingale was in close touch with the United States Sanitary Commission and with many of the women who took charge of army welfare work during the war. The time for change was ripe.

On the basis of English nursing experience and Miss Nightingale's advice, the Committee drew up plans for the establishment of the Bellevue nurse training school with a qualified nurse at its head, and then took its case to the public. Funds were raised, and the school was opened in May, 1873. A nurse familiar with the Nightingale system and fully in sympathy with its ideals was appointed superintendent. This was the first of the three schools which were to adopt Miss Nightingale's methods in 1873, thus laying the foundations of modern professional nursing in the United States.

The organizational and educational methods of the first three schools of nursing laid the cornerstone of professional nursing as we know it today. From these small but determined beginnings 75 years ago, the profession has moved forward, expanding both its numbers and its horizons, to the point where its contributions to the public welfare are almost incalculable.

Starting Summer Trip When Tired May Mean Trouble

Far too many families start a summer vacation trip by staying up until late the night before, packing and getting everything ready. Finally, Mother and Dad may drop into bed for a few hours of exhausted sleep before the alarm rings and they're up and off.

Actually, there is no worse way to start a vacation and a bad beginning can mean the ruin of the whole trip. It is especially bad if the trip is to be by car, for a tired driver may mean a serious accident. When fatigued the driver's judgment is faulty and his reactions are slower. Often he is irritable and more likely to demand "his rights" which may mean taking chances to get even with another driver.

To assure a really top-notch vacation, the whole family should get to bed early the night before starting on a trip. If they enjoy a good night's restful sleep in their own comfortable beds and awaken refreshed and rested, they'll be ready to enjoy the trip much more. The children will not be tired and quarrelsome. Mother will be better able to cope with their needs and questions because she will not be cross and tired from lack of sleep. Father will be alert and ready for the quick decisions and emergencies which continually arise when driving. In short, the whole family will find the trip less tiring and more fun, and they will arrive at their destination ready to enjoy their vacation to the limit.

Color Binds Room Together As Units

Color, which is becoming more and more important in home furnishings, plays a significant part in the arrangement of every room. Careful use of it solves many difficulties which arise when planning an attractive home.

The problem of extreme light and dark rooms can be lessened by using certain hues. For instance, yellow is an excellent color to brighten a room where little or no sunlight enters, while blue softens the harshness of a too-bright room.

Color Creates Illusion

Skillful use of color will also make rooms appear to change size. Small rooms can be made to look larger by using a light shade on the walls. Rather dark colors create a warmth which makes a large room more cozy.

In addition to its neutralizing value, color can be used better than anything else in tying a room together as a coordinated unit. Color accents carry the eye from one place to another with a smoothness which might not be possible otherwise.

For example, a vase of Chinese red in a grey and olive green color scheme will immediately attract the eye. If the same red is repeated in a chair on the opposite side of the room, those two sections are immediately tied together. However, there is danger of too much flashy coloring which will merely confuse and cheapen the color scheme. It must also be remembered that color carries weight and thoughtless use of it may ruin an otherwise well balanced room.

And the same colors that you choose for your personal wardrobe—because they look well on you—will form a flattering background in your home furnishings.

Color in the home is capable of just as much delightful experimentation as it is in your clothes.

Many people do not know the principal difference between salad dressing and mayonnaise. Salad dressing contains starch, mayonnaise does not.

Today's Talk

Women

It is a fine thing the way women in America are taking their places in high positions and making good in them. This autumn the State of Maine will send a woman to the United States Senate — the first woman to be elected to that great body. She has honored the nation as a member in the House of Representatives.

Women have been honored on the postage stamps of many nations, including the United States, and soon another stamp will honor the first leaders in women's emancipation. A just tribute. In the intellectual life of a nation the brains of women have played a part, and they are outstanding in science, business, literature, and the arts. It is to be hoped that soon there will be no discrimination in the wages of men and women. If a woman does the same job as a man, she should be given exactly the same remuneration.

I am glad to see women in politics. They are sorely needed there. They elevate it and put the men on their toes. Their influence on legislation is bound to grow and become increasingly more important. Governor Dewey has said that he intends having a woman in his cabinet if he is elected President. Women should be in the cabinet. One of the greatest and noblest women leaders with whom it has been my privilege to meet and talk was the late Carrie Chapman Catt.

The lives of millions of pupils in our public schools have been influenced beyond all calculation by women teachers—and all too poorly paid for their sacrifices and devotion. And what a magnificent job women did in the recent war. And in peacetime travelling from patient to patient, in our hospitals and homes, are thees same noble angels of light—women nurses!

I have a little book that was published several years ago, on the mothers of the Presidents of the United States, and a wonderfully enlightening an inspiring book it is—great mothers of great men. But great mothers are not confined to those in high political life; they will be found to be the mothers of all great men, in an endless array of those who have distinguished themselves throughout all history. No name in all this world is so sacred as that of mother!

Guests Judge You By Your Living Room

Your living room is the place where the entire family invariably gathers in its leisure hours. The arrangement of furniture in this room is therefore of prime importance.

And the living room is usually considered a pretty accurate guide to the rest of the house—as well as a complete revelation of the hostess's personality!

When a guest enters the living room and finds it attractive and comfortable, she gets a pleasant, favorable impression. The guest may have only seen the living room, but that is where she formed her opinion.

Small Quarters Call For Dual Purpose Beds

Young couples buying furniture for their new homes should not forget double-duty sleeping equipment. In these days of cramped living quarters, it is usually the only answer to guest problems and a necessity in one-room apartments. With the variety of double-duty equipment available these days, however, there is a type suitable to every need.

Versatile mattresses and springs-on-legs star in both bedroom and living room. Slipcovered and bolstered with pillows, they serve as lounges by day and beds by night. Later they can be used in the bedroom of a larger home. Sofa beds and studio couches are also wonderful solutions to either the every-night sleeping problem or for occasional guests. Available now in styles and fabrics to suit every period, they are an addition to any room. Besides standard sized sofa beds, there are convertible love seats and chair beds which are adaptable to conversation groups and smaller rooms.

DENTIST CARVES A HOBBY

AP Newsfeatures

SEVERAL years ago a St. Louis dentist, Dr. A. E. Frank, saw a piece of wood lying on the ground. He picked it up and began to whittle with a pocketknife. That was the start of a hobby that has grown to big proportions. Now Dr. Frank uses a knife, file and small hand jig saw and his carvings have become artier and artier. Here are samples of his work.

New Spotlights Being Installed For Bedford Fair's Anniversary

BEDFORD, Pa.—There'll be a wide difference between the afternoon events on the half-mile track and the night feature in front of the grandstand at the Bedford Fair during the week of August 9 to 14, but the actual contrast between day and night won't be so noticeable.

For the fair's 75th anniversary run of six days and six nights, a battery of new spotlights is being installed in recently-constructed housing atop the grandstand.

They probably won't attract much attention while the crowd is cheering the horses in the nine Pennsylvania Central Circuit harness racing features which will be spread over three days—Tuesday, Thursday and Friday afternoons—but when the big arcs pour their flood of illumination upon the beauteous "ponies" in the Roxyettes ballet, they'll be a delight to the eye. That means both the floodlights and the 20 feminine precision performers who will pace the elaborate stage musical revue.

The afternoon events, however, will get their share of careful attention through other special arrangements. Before the field of noted drivers starts fighting for the lead in the AAA-sanctioned big car auto races slated for Saturday afternoon, the fair management will be preparing to fight the old bugaboo of dust raised by the roaring mounts.

Ten tons of calcium chloride have been marshaled up and are being held in readiness for distribution over the track to lay the clouds and allay the fears of race fans that they might miss any of the close contention of the petrol buggies on the turns.

TRI-STATE DEATHS

MRS. C. J. ROBINSON

PIEDMONT, W. Va.—Mrs. Mae Robinson, 57, a former resident, died yesterday morning in Elkins Memorial Hospital, Elkins, following a cerebral hemorrhage Wednesday night.

A native of Cross, Mrs. Robinson was a daughter of the late Jesse G. and Sarah V. Abernathy. She resided here 14 years. She was employed in the grocery store of Walter T. Lyons, Ashfield Street here for seven years, and four years ago moved to Baltimore. Her husband was the late C. J. Robinson, who died 16 years ago.

Mrs. Robinson has been residing with her sister, Mrs. Louise Sharpless, at Elkins since April. She was a member of Piedmont Trinity Methodist Church.

Surviving are one daughter, Mrs. Ruth Green, Baltimore and one son, Garland Robinson, Lonaconing. JOSEPH H. SMITH

PETERSBURG, W. Va.—Joseph H. Smith, 74, died Wednesday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Maysell Mouse, Pansy, after an illness of several years.

Mr. Smith was born at Macksville, Pendleton county, a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Walter H. Smith. He was engaged in the insurance business with the State Farm Bureau at the time of his death.

His wife, Mrs. Ida (Teter) Smith, died in June, 1947. Besides his daughter and four grandchildren, he is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Mary J. Ruddle, Harrisonburg, Va., and Mrs. Florence Hinkle, Dayton, Va.

"King Midas" Buttons

Have you heard of the "King Midas" buttons? They are plastic really, to which a golden or silvered coating has been added. Very elegant and expensive looking. Bailey, Green and Elger, Inc., New York originator of fine costume buttons, introduced these "King Midas" editions when metals marched off to war! Women liked them so well that they still demand them even though metal buttons are available now. These are light weight, of course, and prettier too, because the plastic base lends itself to more intricate designing than hard metal.

Sleepy Stock Market Extends Its Rally For Fourth Straight Day

NEW YORK, July 23 (AP)—A sleepy stock market extended its rally for the fourth day running today.

Sales of 820,000 shares compared with 850,000 Thursday. This was the smallest since 760,000 shares changed hands in late March but today's total has been matched twice since then.

Nickel Plate common and preferred stayed ahead of the market most of the day with gains of more than a point. The common, however, slipped late in the day and ended one-fourth lower at 82. The preferred finished 2½ higher at 142.

NKP reported net income for the first half at $6,900,644, equal to $19.14 a preferred share, compared with $3,950,894, of $10.96 a share in the first half of last year. The preferred has about $80 a share in arrears which must be taken care of before a common dividend may be considered.

Among the larger gainers were Texas Gulf Sulphur 68½, Denver and Rio Grande Western common 37¾ and preferred 55¼, Lion Oil 49, Pure Oil 35⅞, Southern Pacific 57⅛, Republic Aviation 11⅞, Oliver Corporation 34⅜, General Motors 63¼ and American Smelting 60¾.

Also higher were United States Steel, Chrysler, Deere, Consolidated Natural Gas, Westinghouse Electric, and International Paper.

Plymouth Oil tumbled more than six points at one time but closed 5⅛ lower at 48⅜. Richfield Oil slipped a trifle, along with Bethlehem Steel, Douglas Aircraft, Curtiss Wright, American Telephone, Allied Chemical, and Eastern Air-lines.

A sluggish bond market advanced slightly in the slowest session since March 29.

The total volume of $2,710,000 was equal to some of the Saturday half-day markets of last spring and was the lowest since March 29 when the total was $2,680,000.

In the rail group, Third Avenue 5s gained 2½ to 58½, Norfolk and Southern 5s were up 1⅝ at 80, and New Haven 4s rose 1⅞ to 73⅞ on sale of 213 bonds. Missouri Pacific 5½s were up seven-eighths and the 5s were off one-fourth on moderate volume.

Hudson and Manhattan registered 5s were off ¾ at 62½, Denver and Salt Lake incomes of 1993 fell 1½ to 800½, while Canadian Pacific perpetual 4s advanced 1⅛ to 95½.

Continental Baking 3s dropped 1⅜, American Tobacco 3s were off one-eighth, National Dairy 2¾s were off three-eighths, Wheeling Steel 3¼s fell 1¼ and Phillips Petroleum 2¾s gained one-fourth.

United States government bonds in the over-the-counter market were unchanged to slightly lower.

Steffe To Appear On Driving Charge

Charged with reckless driving following an accident yesterday morning on Long Hill in which four persons were injured, Bryan W. Steffe, 33, Beach City, O., has been summoned to appear at 10 a. m. today in Trial Magistrates Court for a hearing.

Detective Lt. Edwin R. Lilya, who investigated, said Steffe assumed responsibility for the accident. He related that he was attempting to pass a truck while returning home from Hagerstown. His car skidded on the slippery road and crashed against the fender of a car, police said, was driven by Berkey Smith, 20, 906 Camden Avenue.

Smith was treated at Memorial Hospital for scalp and forehead lacerations, and Steffe and his sister, Miss Evelyn Steffe, R. N., 23, also of Beach City, were taken to Allegany Hospital, where Miss Steffe was treated for a laceration of the right knee and nasal hemorrhage. Attaches said she also sustained a possible fractured arm.

James Close, 18, 817 Gephart Drive, a passenger in Smith's car, sustained slight injuries when his head struck and broke the windshield.

Driver Fined After Car Hits Bull

Leroy Edward Griffith, this city, was fined $101.45 yesterday in Trial Magistrates Court on a drunken driving charge preferred July 15, after his car hit and injured a young bull on a farm in the Eastman Road section.

His attorney, Edward J. Ryan, filed notice of an appeal and the defendant was released under $1,000 bond. Magistrate Frank A. Perdew presided at the hearing.

State Trooper William O. McElfish previously testified that Griffith's car turned off the highway into the private property of Edwin King, Eastman Road. The machine struck the animal after entering a gate, he added.

The defendant, who entered a plea of not guilty on July 15, admitted driving through the gate but denied operating his machine on a public highway. He said another man drove him from Cumberland to the gate and then turned the car over to him.

Pearl L. Yoder, Route 5, Cumberland, forfeited $2.45 yesterday for driving a vehicle with a whistle attached when nabbed July 15 on Route 40 by Trooper Paul T. Long.

Hopwood Sentenced On Forgery Counts

A former local resident, Edwin E. Hopwood, 27, was sentenced Wednesday to two terms in San Quentin Penitentiary, Calif., after pleading guilty to two charges of forgery in Fresno County Court.

The sentence imposed by Superior Judge T. R. Thomson on each count, was from one to 14 years, with the judge ordering them to run concurrently.

Hopwood was arrested in Fresno June 18 and he admitted forging checks in Fresno totaling $2,000 Fresno Police reported.

Detective Sgt. J. B. Wilson stated that Hopwood confessed the theft of checks from the mailbox of Jack Eby, of Fresno, forging the endorsement and opening a bank account under Eby's name.

Corporation Gets Liquor License

Frank A. and Mary S. Pattitucci, owners of the Potomac Fruit Market, 65-67 North Centre Street, voluntarily surrendered their liquor license to the Allegany County Liquor Control Board yesterday and a new license was issued to a corporation to control the store.

Members of the corporation will be Mr. and Mrs. Pattitucci, Edward E. Allen, Cumberland, and Homer C. Griffith of Lucky's Cut Rate Liquor Store, Frostburg.

Pattitucci testified that he and his wife have been in ill health recently due to long hours spent operating the store. He said that he needed a rest of at least two months, and that he had decided to place the store in the hands of a corporation, formed by himself, his wife and others. The store building will be leased to the corporation.

Allen testified that he will leave his job at Martin's Liquor Store, Baltimore Street, to become manager of the Potomac Market. He said he had no interest in any other liquor concern.

Griffith told the board that he has been the manager, not the owner, of Lucky's Store and submitted a copy of an Employment Compensation Board report in support of his statement. He will take charge of the grocery department of the Potomac Store under the new setup.

Griffith said he had worked at Lucky's two years, always as an employe. He denied having any interest in any other concern. When asked by the board about reports that Lucky's was operating with below-standard prices, Griffith said the store did this only on rare occasions, and then just to close out a particular stock.

Board members said that the quota for liquor licenses for the county is filled, but that the law does not prohibit a licensee from surrendering his permit and another group then being granted one.

James A. Rankin, owner of Rankin's Cafe, 25 North Water Street, Frostburg, has applied to the Allegany County Liquor Control Board for a beer license.

Shotgun Blast Greets Burglars

State Police last night were still investigating a burglary at Melody Manor on Mt. Savage Road at about 4 a. m. yesterday, in which two intruders, a man and woman, were fired upon with a shotgun by a man who lives near the establishment.

State Police said Edward Jenkins, who resides next to the place, heard a noise and investigated. Apparently aware that the man had awakened, the pair fled and Jenkins fire a shotgun blast in their direction.

Trooper William F. Baker said a burlap sack, filled with canned goods, packages of ice cream and other merchandise, was found inside the building. About $10 was taken from a music box, he added.

According to Trooper Baker, entrance to the place was gained by forcing a side window. He identified Myrtle Robertson as owner of the Manor.

Permits Issued To Build Two Homes

Permits to build two residences estimated to cost a total of $10,000 were granted yesterday in the city engineer's office.

One was issued to Gilbert Robertson, 516 Sheridan Place, to build a one-story brick residence on Lot 20, South Street, with an attached garage. The structure will measure 26 by 30 feet, while the garage will be 12 by 30 feet. The foundation will be of concrete block, with a composition roof. Work will be done by Calvin Kidwell and cost is estimated at $6,500.

The other permit was granted to Denzil R. May, 711 Shriver Avenue, to build a one-story brick house on Lot 207, Massachusetts Avenue at an estimated cost of $3,500. The structure will measure 30 by 32 feet, with a concrete block foundation and a roof of slate surface shingles. Work will be done by May's father, Harvey May.

Labor Group Votes Support For Truman

A resolution approving the candidacy of President Truman and the Democratic Party platform has been approved by top leaders of the Sixth District of the Maryland League of United Voters.

Leaders of the group which met this week in Washington called a full League meeting in Hagerstown August 7.

The group also called for immediate action by Congress to reduce the high cost of living.

Attending from Cumberland were C. E. Stutzman, Allegany County chairman for the League, and John L. Estes and Lester McGill, of the Local 1874, TWUA, PAC.

Tax Collections Boom As Deadline Nears

Collections yesterday at the city tax office amounted to $136,504.38 as Cumberland residents hurried to pay their 1948 city taxes before the interest deadline.

After Monday, interest will be charged at the rate of one per cent from May 24, the date of the levy.

Total payments of current city taxes now amount to $646,935.64, or about 70 per cent of the total levy of $927,400.

Gulf Employes Honored

Four Gulf Oil Corporation employes affiliated with the Cumberland substation yesterday were presented safe driving awards. They are:

M. V. Smith, 22-year card; M. W. Volk, 20 years; Harrison Livengood, 19 years; and C. F. Cessna, one year.

A total of 212 awards were presented in the Pittsburgh Division of the company.

The art of painting is said to have been introduced in Rome from Etruria by Quintus Fabius in 291 B. C.

Sleepy Stock Market Extends Its Rally For Fourth Straight Day

NEW YORK, July 23 (AP)—A sleepy stock market extended its rally for the fourth day running today.

Sales of 820,000 shares compared with 850,000 Thursday. This was the smallest since 760,000 shares changed hands in late March but today's total has been matched twice since then.

Nickel Plate common and preferred stayed ahead of the market most of the day with gains of more than a point. The common, however, slipped late in the day and ended one-fourth lower at 82. The preferred finished 2½ higher at 142.

NKP reported net income for the first half at $6,900,644, equal to $19.14 a preferred share, compared with $3,950,894, of $10.96 a share in the first half of last year. The preferred has about $80 a share in arrears which must be taken care of before a common dividend may be considered.

Among the larger gainers were Texas Gulf Sulphur 68½, Denver and Rio Grande Western common 37¾ and preferred 55¼, Lion Oil 49, Pure Oil 35⅞, Southern Pacific 57⅛, Republic Aviation 11⅞, Oliver Corporation 34⅝, General Motors 63¼ and American Smelting 60⅝.

Also higher were United States Steel, Chrysler, Deere, Consolidated Natural Gas, Westinghouse Electric, and International Paper.

Plymouth Oil tumbled more than six points at one time but closed 5⅛ lower at 48⅜. Richfield Oil slipped a trifle, along with Bethlehem Steel, Douglas Aircraft, Curtiss Wright, American Telephone, Allied Chemical, and Eastern Air-lines.

A sluggish bond market advanced slightly in the slowest session since March 29.

The total volume of $2,710,000 was equal to some of the Saturday half-day markets of last spring and was the lowest since March 29 when the total was $2,680,000.

In the rail group, Third Avenue 5s gained 2½ to 58½, Norfolk and Southern 5s were up 1⅝ at 80, and New Haven 4s rose 1⅞ to 73⅞ on sale of 213 bonds. Missouri Pacific 5½s were up seven-eighths and the 5s were off one-fourth on moderate volume.

Hudson and Manhattan registered 5s were off ¾ at 62½, Denver and Salt Lake incomes of 1993 fell 1½ to 800½, while Canadian Pacific perpetual 4s advanced 1⅛ to 95½.

Continental Baking 3s dropped 1⅜, American Tobacco 3s were off one-eighth, National Dairy 2⅝s were off three-eighths, Wheeling Steel 3¼s fell 1¼ and Phillips Petroleum 2⅝s gained one-fourth.

United States government bonds in the over-the-counter market were unchanged to slightly lower.

Steffe To Appear On Driving Charge

Charged with reckless driving following an accident yesterday morning on Long Hill in which four persons were injured, Bryan W. Steffe, 33, Beach City, O., has been summoned to appear at 10 a. m. today in Trial Magistrates Court for a hearing.

Detective Lt. Edwin R. Lilya, who investigated, said Steffe assumed responsibility for the accident. He related that he was attempting to pass a truck while returning home from Hagerstown. His car skidded on the slippery road and crashed against the fender of a car, police said, was driven by Berkey Smith, 20, 906 Camden Avenue.

Smith was treated at Memorial Hospital for scalp and forehead lacerations, and Steffe and his sister, Miss Evelyn Steffe, R. N., 23, also of Beach City, were taken to Allegany Hospital, where Miss Steffe was treated for a laceration of the right knee and nasal hemorrhage. Attaches said she also sustained a possible fractured arm.

James Close, 18, 817 Gephart Drive, a passenger in Smith's car, sustained slight injuries when his head struck and broke the windshield.

Driver Fined After Car Hits Bull

Leroy Edward Griffith, this city, was fined $101.45 yesterday in Trial Magistrates Court on a drunken driving charge preferred July 15, after his car hit and injured a young bull on a farm in the Eastman Road section.

His attorney, Edward J. Ryan, filed notice of an appeal and the defendant was released under $1,000 bond. Magistrate Frank A. Perdew presided at the hearing.

State Trooper William O. McElfish previously testified that Griffith's car turned off the highway into the private property of Edwin King, Eastman Road. The machine struck the animal after entering a gate, he added.

The defendant, who entered a plea of not guilty on July 15, admitted driving through the gate but denied operating his machine on a public highway. He said another man drove him from Cumberland to the gate and then turned the car over to him.

Pearl L. Yoder, Route 5, Cumberland, forfeited $2.45 yesterday for driving a vehicle with a whistle attached when nabbed July 15 on Route 40 by Trooper Paul T. Long.

Hopwood Sentenced On Forgery Counts

A former local resident, Edwin E. Hopwood, 27, was sentenced Wednesday to two terms in San Quentin Penitentiary, Calif., after pleading guilty to two charges of forgery in Fresno County Court.

The sentence imposed by Superior Judge T. R. Thomson on each count, was from one to 14 years, with the judge ordering them to run concurrently.

Hopwood was arrested in Fresno June 18 and he admitted forging checks in Fresno totaling $2,000 Fresno Police reported.

Detective Sgt. J. B. Wilson stated that Hopwood confessed the theft of checks from the mailbox of Jack Eby, of Fresno, forging the endorsement and opening a bank account under Eby's name.

Corporation Gets Liquor License

Frank A. and Mary S. Pattitucci, owners of the Potomac Fruit Market, 65-67 North Centre Street, voluntarily surrendered their liquor license to the Allegany County Liquor Control Board yesterday and a new license was issued to a corporation to control the store.

Members of the corporation will be Mr. and Mrs. Pattitucci, Edward E. Allen, Cumberland, and Homer C. Griffith of Lucky's Cut Rate Liquor Store, Frostburg.

Pattitucci testified that he and his wife have been in ill health recently due to long hours spent operating the store. He said that he needed a rest of at least two months, and that he had decided to place the store in the hands of a corporation, formed by himself, his wife and others. The store building will be leased to the corporation.

Allen testified that he will leave his job at Martin's Liquor Store, Baltimore Street, to become manager of the Potomac Market. He said he had no interest in any other liquor concern.

Griffith told the board that he has been the manager, not the owner, of Lucky's Store and submitted a copy of an Employment Compensation Board report in support of his statement. He will take charge of the grocery department of the Potomac Store under the new setup.

Griffith said he had worked at Lucky's two years, always as an employe. He denied having any interest in any other concern. When asked by the board about reports that Lucky's was operating with below-standard prices, Griffith said the store did this only on rare occasions, and then just to close out a particular stock.

Board members said that the quota for liquor licenses for the county is filled, but that the law does not prohibit a licensee from surrendering his permit and another group then being granted one.

James A. Rankin, owner of Rankin's Cafe, 25 North Water Street, Frostburg, has applied to the Allegany County Liquor Control Board for a beer license.

Shotgun Blast Greets Burglars

State Police last night were still investigating a burglary at Melody Manor on Mt. Savage Road at about 4 a. m. yesterday, in which two intruders, a man and woman, were fired upon with a shotgun by a man who lives near the establishment.

State Police said Edward Jenkins, who resides next to the place, heard a noise and investigated. Apparently aware that the man had awakened, the pair fled and Jenkins fire a shotgun blast in their direction.

Trooper William F. Baker said a burlap sack, filled with canned goods, packages of ice cream and other merchandise, was found inside the building. About $10 was taken from a music box, he added.

According to Trooper Baker, entrance to the place was gained by forcing a side window. He identified Myrtle Robertson as owner of the Manor.

Permits Issued To Build Two Homes

Permits to build two residences estimated to cost a total of $10,000 were granted yesterday in the city engineer's office.

One was issued to Gilbert Robertson, 516 Sheridan Place, to build a one-story brick residence on Lot 20, South Street, with an attached garage. The structure will measure 26 by 30 feet, while the garage will be 12 by 30 feet. The foundation will be of concrete block, with a composition roof. Work will be done by Calvin Kidwell and cost is estimated at $6,500.

The other permit was granted to Denzil R. May, 711 Shriver Avenue, to build a one-story brick house on Lot 207, Massachusetts Avenue at an estimated cost of $3,500. The structure will measure 30 by 32 feet, with a concrete block foundation and a roof of slate surface shingles. Work will be done by May's father, Harvey May.

Labor Group Votes Support For Truman

A resolution approving the candidacy of President Truman and the Democratic Party platform has been approved by top leaders of the Sixth District of the Maryland League of United Voters.

Leaders of the group which met this week in Washington called a full League meeting in Hagerstown August 7.

The group also called for immediate action by Congress to reduce the high cost of living.

Attending from Cumberland were C. E. Stutzman, Allegany County chairman for the League, and John L. Estes and Lester McGill, of the Local 1874, TWUA, PAC.

Tax Collections Boom As Deadline Nears

FOUR KILLED IN BUS-TRUCK COLLISION

Vehicles Hit Head-On Near Romney, W. Va.

Three Others Are Treated By Doctor

Four persons were killed and three suffered minor injuries in a headon bus-truck collision at Hanging Rock Curve on Route 28, three miles north of Romney, W. Va., yesterday at 10:48 a. m. (EST).

The dead were identified as:

Arthur Joseph Wilson, Jr., 24, Petersburg, W. Va., driver of the bus; Minnie Crites See, 37, Moorefield, W. Va.; and George Mallow, 67, Petersburg, W. Va., all passengers on the bus, and William Corbin, 57, Romney, W. Va., a passenger in the truck.

The injuried are Gilbert D. Corbin, 37, Romney, driver of the truck; Mrs. Dale Allender, 36, Springfield, W. Va., and Victor Long, 16, Fort Ashby, W. Va., both passengers on the bus.

The bus, a Reynolds Transportation Company vehicle en route to Cumberland from Petersburg, was rounding the curve, according to Trooper E. D. Harbert, West Virginia State Police, when the truck, traveling toward Romney, "slipped to the left of the road" and crashed headon with the bus which had left the Romney depot "minutes before."

Charles Kifer, Romney, notified police of the crash, and Trooper Harbert said that when he arrived at the scene at 11 a. m. the Long youth had escaped from the demolished bus through the emergency door.

Passengers Trapped

The remainder of the passengers were trapped in the vehicle by several dislodged seats which had to be pried loose before Harbert, Trooper F. H. Tribett, Dr. J. F. Easton, Romney, and R. S. Kuykendall, 30 Romney, were able to remove the driver and the other three passengers.

Mrs. See, who was still conscious, was the first to be removed, according to Trooper Harbert. He said she was placed in an ambulance and sent to Memorial Hospital, Cumberland, where she was pronounced dead at 11:55 a. m. (EST) by Dr. H. V. Deming, deputy Allegany County medical examiner.

The bus driver was killed instantly, authorities said, but it was necessary to remove his body before the remainder of the passengers could be taken out.

Mallow, the third fatally injured bus passenger, died en route to Cumberland, according to police, who said his body was brought back before the destination was reached.

Corbin, an uncle of the truck driver, was killed instantly by the impact, Trooper Harbert said, and his body was slumped over in the seat of the two-ton stake body truck when aid arrived.

The injured were taken to Dr. J. D. Brown, Romney, where they received treatment and were discharged, with the exception of Corbin, who was sent to Memorial Hospital, Cumberland, for further observation and X-rays.

Truck Jammed Into Bus

Trooper Harbert said when he arrived at the scene the front of the truck was jammed into the bus so that part of it extended beyond the first passenger seat position.

The truck driver was walking about the road in a daze, the trooper said, but the trapped passengers were described as "level headed." Mrs. See asked her rescuers to remove "something from her body," Trooper Harbert said, but they were unable to understand her request and she was placed in the ambulance and rushed to the hospital.

Dr. Deming said Mrs. See died from shock and loss of blood. He described her injuries as compound fractures of both legs, several fractured ribs, a fractured jaw, and deep lacerations on the right leg.

Wilson also suffered compound fractures of both legs, fracture of the right hip and a crushed chest.

Trooper Harbert said several fragments of bone were found lying in front of the blood-soaked bus, where all of the injured were thrown by the impact.

Corbin died from a fractured skull, and police quoted the attending physician as saying a sharp object pierced the victim's brain.

The bus was due in Cumberland at 11:14 a. m. (EST), according to the company's printed schedule.

Trooper Harbert said that as close as he could determine, the truck was descending a grade and collided with the bus just as it completed negotiating a curve. Police said rain began to fall shortly after the accident.

Occupied Seats Jarred Lose

The four passengers were seated in the first two seats on either side of the bus, police said investigation showed, and added all of the seats occupied were jarred loose from the floor and thrown to the extreme front where they piled up.

Mrs. See was discovered lying in the aisle of the bus about one-third of the way back, according to Trooper Harbert, and the driver was lying between the front door and his seat with his head hanging downward on the top step.

His body was in such a position that it was impossible to remove

The Weather

While he didn't make a point of it, the weatherman failed to mention in his prediction for today that it would rain. But the fact that the old boy who called for showers 13 days in a row and got them, passed today up looks like news. What he did say is, "It will be cooler and less humid." Yesterday it was 89 degrees at the high point but a rain of .04 inches that tried to come down all at once dropped the mercury so that it was only 73 degrees at 11 p. m.

Accident In Which 4 Died Termed Appalling Sight By Man Who Aided

Dr. J. F. Easton Describes Scene

"It was an appalling sight," said Dr. J. F. Easton, Romney, W. Va., physician, yesterday as he described efforts to extricate the dead and injured from the wreckage of a Reynolds Line Bus involved in a crash with a truck at Hanging Rocks, near Romney, on Route 28.

Dr. Easton and Dr. R. W. Daily, another Romney physician, arrived about 15 minutes after the crash that snuffed out the life of the bus driver, two passengers and an occupant of the truck yesterday morning.

Dr. Easton was called to the scene and Dr. Daily arrived by coincidence while driving on Route 28. Both reached the scene at about the same time.

Quite a crowd had gathered but "nobody was making an effort to get the injured out," Dr. Easton said. "I think they were just appalled by it."

From inside the bus, said the physician, "passengers were hollering for help—those that could.

"We (Dr. Easton and Dr. Daily) got inside the bus. The driver named Wilson and a Miss or Mrs. See, about 35 or 40, from Moorefield, were crushed in the front of the bus. The truck had pushed the front end in about five feet.

Five Are Injured In 2-Car Collision

Five persons were injured, one critically, yesterday at 4 p. m. in a two-car collision a half mile south of Shanksville, Pa., on Legislative Route 55058, Pennsylvania State Police reported.

Most seriously injured was Rudolph Watkins, 70, who was a passenger in the car of his son, Ralph J. Watkins, Berlin, Pa., when it was struck by a machine operated by Elmer Diebold, 64, Pittsburgh, police said.

Both drivers were also admitted to Somerset, Pa., Community Hospital along with Lucie Watkins, wife of the driver, and Lucille McDonough, Somerset, who was riding in the Diebold car.

The elder Watkins suffered internal injuries and fractures of both legs, according to investigating officers, who said the remaining victims were painfully but not seriously injured.

The accident is still under investigation according to police who said they understand that the Diebold car skidded from the road and struck Watkins' car after he had driven off the road and stopped.

Police said no charges have been preferred as yet.

Hanging Rock Curve Hazardous

A headon bus-truck collision which claimed the lives of four persons yesterday, is the first fatal accident to occur on Hanging Rock Curve, three miles north of Romney, in recent years, West Virginia State Police reported, despite the hazardous turn in the road.

Several minor accidents have been reported on the Route 28 curve, police said, but records for the past five years indicate that persons involved were only slightly injured.

Police attributed well marked approaches to the curve for the comparative safety with which motorists negotiate it, for they were in agreement that it is one of the sharpest turns in the vicinity.

The surface of the road was recently scraped and roughened up, police reported, because they realized the danger when the highway is wet.

Warren A. Feaster, 10-year-old son of John A. Feaster, 544 Eastern Avenue, was treated at Allegany Hospital for lacerations of the palm of his hand. He said he tore the hand on a barbed-wire fence. Sutures were required to close the wound.

Nancy Jones, 10-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Jones, Corriganville, was treated at the same hospital after she cut her hand on a broken glass. The wound was sutured and she was discharged.

W. W. White, 32, Lake Gordon, Pa., sustained an injury to the cartilage in his knee while at work on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad. He told attaches he sustained the injuries when he stepped into the stirrup of a railroad car. He received treatment and a cast will be applied today.

Welfare Council Organization To Begin August 18

Infirmary Inspection Committee Named

Because of insufficient labor representation, organization of a general council to promote increased welfare appropriations and assistance in Allegany County was deferred last night until a meeting scheduled for Wednesday, August 18, at City Hall.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Maurice Lepley, 517 North Centre Street, former cook at the Allegany County Infirmary who has charged that some foods served the patients are "bug-infested," was appointed to a private committee which will make an inspection tour of the institution at an undisclosed time.

The appointment was made by I. C. Brant, chairman of a citizens' committee set up to investigate the problems of welfare recipients, at a meeting in the Woodmen of the World Home.

Merchants Plan Fall Promotion Program Here

The board of directors of the Mercantile Bureau of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce last night authorized the advertising and promotion committees of the Bureau to proceed with a fall promotion program in this city, James R. Kendall, assistant manager of the Chamber, said.

The group last night hailed the recent Dollar Day sale one of the greatest promotion successes in the history of the Bureau.

Each store contacted, Kendall said, reported the volume of sales as the greatest yet for such an event and attributed the success of the sale to the value of the offerings and the hunger of the public for real values.

Frank Martin, chairman, presided at the meeting as members discussed recommendations of the sales promotion, parking lot and Christmas decorations committees. The recommendations were, in general, approved.

Kendall said the Mercantile Bureau is embarking on an all-out effort to make Cumberland a greater shopping center.

Hanging Rock Curve Hazardous

A headon bus-truck collision which claimed the lives of four persons yesterday, is the first fatal accident to occur on Hanging Rock Curve, three miles north of Romney, in recent years, West Virginia State Police reported, despite the hazardous turn in the road.

Several minor accidents have been reported on the Route 28 curve, police said, but records for the past five years indicate that persons involved were only slightly injured.

Police attributed well marked approaches to the curve for the comparative safety with which motorists negotiate it, for they were in agreement that it is one of the sharpest turns in the vicinity.

The surface of the road was recently scraped and roughened up, police reported, because they realized the danger when the highway is wet.

Nancy Jones, 10-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Jones, Corriganville, was treated at the same hospital after she cut her hand on a broken glass. The wound was sutured and she was discharged.

W. W. White, 32, Lake Gordon, Pa., sustained an injury to the cartilage in his knee while at work on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad. He told attaches he sustained the injuries when he stepped into the stirrup of a railroad car. He received treatment and a cast will be applied today.

Each store contacted, Kendall said, reported the volume of sales as the greatest yet for such an event and attributed the success of the sale to the value of the offerings and the hunger of the public for real values.

Frank Martin, chairman, presided at the meeting as members discussed recommendations of the sales promotion, parking lot and Christmas decorations committees. The recommendations were, in general, approved.
